

LEGION CONVENTION STARTS TODAY

Italian Government And Vatican In Complete Accord

MUSSOLINI POPE PIUS SIGN PACT

Provide for Education in Catholic Schools Under Supervision From State

GUARD PEACE TERMS

Police Start Removal of Seals From Doors of All Clubs Closed By State

ROME, Aug. 31.—(UP)—The accord between the Vatican and the Italian government has been completed, it was announced today, and has been approved by Pope Pius XI and Premier Mussolini.

The text of the accord was printed privately. It was sent to the members of the College of Cardinals, many of whom are at their summer residences. Their approval is not necessary, however, as the Pope took full responsibility for the negotiations.

Relieves Tension

There was a marked lessening of tension between the Vatican and the Italian government this morning. Prelates and members of the government staff fraternized openly for the first time since the open break, caused principally by differences over education of the youth of the country. Provisions of the accord were guarded closely.

Both Sides Satisfied

It was learned, however, that both sides were satisfied with the formula for the education of youths through a system whereby special clerical inspectors would oversee the Catholic schools.

Members of the government expected an official announcement shortly.

It was believed that the differences growing out of simultaneous membership in the fascist organization and the church had been bridged by restricting Catholic activities solely.

Police began today to remove the seals from the doors of Catholic clubs and returning the keys to club officials. The reopening order was understood to apply to the Knights of Columbus playgrounds which were shut.

WILL ROGERS
says:

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31. [To the Editor of The Register:] Post and Gatty and their family were out to spend the day with us today. They are mighty modest, fine boys. Gatty thinks we have pilots and engines that will take us anywhere; that it's up to navigation now.

They are leaving at once for the Cleveland air races. Post won the race from here to there last year. This year Jimmy Doolittle has a very fast new plane that should win. That ought to be the greatest show in America for there is nothing new in kind of a show now-a-days, but aviation.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

SCHOOL BUDGET REDUCTIONS TO STAND BELIEF

FOLLOWING conferences between County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson and officials from several school districts in Adkinson's office today, indications pointed to a general concurrence in the $195,000 school budget reduction made by the county school board.

The Santa Ana board of education met with Adkinson early today and later a statement was issued at the board's office which said in part that, "Since it has been found necessary to reduce rigorously the income of all departments of county government the board of education of Santa Ana will concur in this further reduction of school income." This statement was in the form of a letter addressed to the board of supervisors.

Reach Agreement

Representatives from Tustin, Westminster, Garden Grove and Fullerton high school districts also conferred with Adkinson today and agreed to concur in the reduction, Adkinson said.

The statement from the Santa Ana board office pointed out "that it will be necessary to use safety reserves to pay deficits in current maintenance funds to the extent of this $42,000 reduction. From a strictly business point of view the board of education questions the advisability of dangerously reducing these reserves further in this manner since the budget already prepared had called for all reductions."

U. S. Marine Shot Byirate Husband

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Horace A. Eckhoff, 23, a marine on the U. S. S. Texas, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded early today by an enraged husband who found him in company of his wife, police reported.

Eckhoff told police he met a woman on the street here and accompanied her home. A short time later the woman's husband returned, and fired five shots at the fleeing marine, one of which struck him in the right side. He was unable to give the names of either the woman or her husband, nor to tell where the shooting occurred.

MELTON PLANS MOVE TO HALT TAX INCREASE

Series of Bond Issues Are Proposed As Method of Bolstering Treasury

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Secretary of treasury Mellon revealed today how he plans to avoid a tax increase at the coming session of congress by a series of bond issues somewhat like the huge Liberty loan issues of the world war period.

He announced a billion dollar refunding program, the largest single operation of this character in recent years. It consists of a 24-year $300,000,000 bond issue at the record low interest rate of three per cent, and a $300,000,000 issue of treasury certificates to run for a year and to bear interest at one and one-eighth per cent—a grand total of $1,000,000,000.

Later Issues

This bond issue is to be followed by one in December and another in March to meet notes coming due at that time and representing loans the government has made to pay its way during the depression.

A total of $634,000,000 of treasury certificates are partly to refund this obligation and postpone payment as well as to meet about $30,000,000 in interest payments.

Old certificates maturing are to be exchanged either for the bonds or the certificates. The issues are dated September 15, the bond issue to mature in 1955. It is callable in 1931.

Third Bond Issue

The next bond issue is the third of the year, one being floated in March for a total of $594,000,000.

Four Years Service

Today ends another year's service in Santa Ana for the present publishers of The Register. Tomorrow will be the beginning of the fifth year of work in this city, and as we look back upon it, we cannot help saying that they have been four wonderful years.

We took over the Santa Ana Register with its fine history, reputation and substantial circulation, and if we can believe the evidences, its reputation has been sustained as a newspaper, its personality continued, and we do know that its circulation has increased wonderfully.

The Register publishes the news, local, county, state, national and world, together with the finest features of all kinds, including the best comics. It aims to interpret the news locally and of the world in harmony with the facts as we are able to learn them. We believe that as a newspaper, The Register is second to none published in a city of this size in the entire country.

The popularity and standing of a newspaper is determined by its circulation. With the competition that is on in the journalistic field, the people are able to purchase that which they desire. The circulation determines the value of the paper as an advertising medium, for every home that is added to the list of subscribers is another home into which the merchant who advertises in the paper can come with a presentation of his merchandise. It determines the size of the city for him.

According to the A. B. C. auditor's report on the first quarter of the year before our taking charge, it showed The Register had 10,586 subscribers. For the corresponding period of this year, the A. B. C. auditor's report showed The Register had 14,179 subscribers, an increase of 3,593. This increase alone is a larger number than the total number of subscribers which any other paper, either daily or weekly, in Orange county has.

The increase in circulation of the paper has been marked and steady, with the exception of a brief period of time in which the price was raised. The confidence which is evidenced by this marked and steady circulation is exceedingly gratifying. This increase is very nearly 35 per cent. The gratification is all the more when we realize that there has been no such increase in population in the county,—hence the circulation has far outrun the increase in population, so that relatively The Register has become stronger and more popular with the mass of the people.

There was not room for such an increase in circulation in the city as has been achieved by The Register during this period. The added circulation has come very primarily from the territory outside of the city. It has increased very materially in the cities of Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange, Placentia, Garden Grove, Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach, Tustin, Olive and country points. And even during this depression, we are most rejoiced to note the manner in which the circulation is sustained, and how in the outside territory, the subscribers are receiving their news through this paper, and new subscribers are being added. During two years of this four year period, The Register had competition, and yet actually in those two years the paid number of subscribers increased by 1500.

The Register management desires to express its deep appreciation to the people of Santa Ana and Orange county for this support. Our gratitude is the greater when we realize that it has not come at the surrender of any principle or of pussy-footing on any issue. The Register has nailed to its masthead in spirit the principles of an unfettered newspaper:

The publication of the facts, giving to the people the knowledge of public affairs,
The enforcement of our laws,
The protection of the rights of the weak against the aggrandizement of the strong,
The upholding of our Constitution,
A belief in American institutions,
Against "boss" control in political affairs,
For business economy,
The unity of our city and county in those interests that are common to us all,
Flood control and water conservation,
The obtaining of an adequate water supply for the city and county,
Added industries to our city and county, and
Increased population of the finest type.

Its policy has been to sustain and help every institution that makes for the moral, spiritual, intellectual or physical uplifting of the community, and for every development in recreation.

We deeply regret that this almost unparalleled popular support, which has come to The Register, has caused ill feeling among some publishers whose losses are due to their failure to stand for the very principles which The Register has been emphasizing. It is unfortunate, but probably natural that this opposition to The Register's increased circulation in their localities. We have not replied to criticisms of the paper or of ourselves for the most part, believing that if our position and attitude were worthy, it will be sufficiently vindicated, and if not, any worded defense would be worthless. The public has vindicated it by subscribing for the paper in increasing numbers.

There are many things to which The Register can point with pardonable pride, but we are not going into detail. We stand today for a bigger and better Santa Ana and Orange county. We have no personal or political axes to grind. We have no enemies, whom we desire to punish.

For public office we are determined to avoid controversy on every aspect of affairs that is personal in its nature, and stick to the discussion of the principles involved. We have no desire or intention of either building or being a part of a political "machine."

The measure of tomorrow's possibilities are not limited by today's service. We are not in the business of selecting people for public office. We stand for measures and for men, whoever they are and wherever they may be found, who conform to the principles and program which alone will make for better government, a bigger county and a fine people.

LABORITES IN ENGLAND WILL FIGHT ECONOMY

Trades Union Congress to Register Indignation at Plan to Cut Dole

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(UP)—The Labor party's war on Britain's national government assumed concrete form today with publication of the trades union congress program diametrically opposed to the government's economy measures.

The T. U. C. will hold its sixty-third annual congress at Bristol September 7, the day before the "sacrifice" government of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald goes before an extraordinary session of parliament.

Unions Indignant

While MacDonald and his three party administration will ask for a 10 per cent reduction of the "dole," the trades union congress will register its "utmost indignation" regarding the proposal. It will ask an increase in workers' unemployment contributions.

Arthur Henderson, who took MacDonald's place as the labor leader, will be a fraternal delegate from the Labor party. The congress will stress the principle of work or adequate maintenance; will demand adequate pensions for workers aged 60; will demand a 40 hour week and payment on holidays.

Want National Plan

The Iron and Steel Trades confederation will introduce a resolution somewhat similar to the soviet five year plan of industrialization, demanding that the government nationalize the iron and steel industries. The plan will envisage a national planning scheme, managerial boards responsible for the operation of industry in their respective regions, and a central supervising board with authority to regulate, restrict or prohibit imports and fix prices in the home market.

Texas Town Is Menaced By Firebug

Call State Militia When Arson Maniac Starts Two New Fires

KILGORE, Tex., Aug. 31.—(UP)—State troopers, under orders from Brigadier General Jacob F. Walters "to shoot at the waistline and don't come to me and say you missed," patrolled Kilgore streets today, seeking to prevent further incendiary blazes.

A week ago nine buildings burned, including two of the churches, in this boom oil town. In each case evidence of incendiary was found. Yesterday there were two more fires.

General Walters, in command of the militia ordered here to close the East Texas oil fields under martial law, answered by sending 35 men into the streets with positive orders to shoot any suspicious character who failed to obey a command to halt.

Squads of militia were mobilized to aid the local fire department and the local company was assembled in the city hall in readiness to answer alarms.

The blazes yesterday, one flaring from a pile of gasoline-soaked rags under a rooming house and the other bursting from hay stored in warehouses, were extinguished before much damage was done.

ACCUSATIONS RESENTED BY VET'S GROUP

National Commander Gives Opening Address as Parley Opens at Long Beach

NO UNFAIR DEMANDS

Ralph T. O'Neil Tells Outline of Campaign to Aid Dependents of Veterans

LONG BEACH, Aug. 31.—(UP)—The American Legion resents accusations that veterans have made unreasonable demands upon the government, Ralph T. O'Neil, national commander, said today in addressing delegates attending the opening session of the annual convention of the California department of the Legion.

"We have never in the past, nor will we in the future, ask for legislation that is unfair or unreasonable, or that will place an unjust financial burden on our government," O'Neil said.

The national commander touched upon various subjects, including unemployment, education, the crime situation, child welfare, legislation, insurance, veterans' leave, national defense, and Communism.

Unemployment Situation Acute

"The condition of unemployment among the World War veterans continues to be acute," O'Neil said. "The relief of this situation is one of the most pressing problems of the Legion today."

"The finding, or creation of work for the unemployed is the emergency phase of the Legion's employment campaign. The Legion is sponsoring such necessary public work as can receive the full support of the public. The states, the federal government, likewise, should be urged to proceed with national projects that already are contemplated, or approved."

Regarding youth activities and patriotic education, O'Neil said the Legion had "a great opportunity for service" by inspiring "the

WOODCOCK RAPS PAID INFORMERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Elimination of paid informers in prohibition enforcement as far as possible was announced today as a new policy by Federal Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock.

The announcement follows Woodcock's recent order against the use of women as decoys or spies in enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Assignment of men as flying prohibition agents to be used especially in the south to hunt moonshine stills are among his new plans, Woodcock said.

"I don't believe in the use of paid informers," Woodcock said, "but local agents think they are necessary and useful in some cases. They have been used particularly here in Washington because local enforcement officers think they are needed."

Informers, Woodcock said, are paid at the rate of about $5 a day.

SHATTER SLAYER'S INSANITY DEFENSE

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 31.—(UP)—The insanity defense for which police claim Harry F. Powers, matronal agent accused of slaying two women and three children, and his counsel were preparing, was believed shattered today by a psychiatrist's announcement today that Powers "knew right from wrong."

As the state prepared to bring the former soldier and ex-salesman to trial for the slayings, belief grew stronger that at least one more body lay at the bottom of a well 30 feet from the garage where the others were believed "executed" on an improvised gallows.

Elk creek, which flows near the garage, was being dragged in search for bodies of others of the 113 women who, police said, were infatuated with the pudgy but dapper mail order Romeo.

Dr. Edwin E. Mayer, university of Pittsburgh psychiatrist, who served in the Harry K. Thaw case when the Pittsburgh slayer of Stanford White sought his freedom announced after a long conference with Powers that he "was on the border line of insanity, but knew right from wrong."

SANTA ANA FLIERS DELAYED BY RAINS

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—(UP)—The projected Transpacific flight of Don Moyle Los Angeles "jail or glory" flier, and C. A. Allen, his companion, was delayed today when heavy rains prevented final tests in their plane.

The aviators had planned to test their ship for Japanese air officials in order to obtain a permit to attempt the crossing. Moyle said the rains would delay the intended takeoff next Tuesday.

Moyle is under a court order to surrender at the Los Angeles county jail September 1, to serve a 30 day sentence for driving while intoxicated. He obtained a stay from the judge when he told of his plans to seek a $25,000 prize offered by the Asahi newspapers of Japan for the first nonstop flight between Japan and America.

MOONEY MAKES NEW MOVE FOR FREEDOM

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Thomas J. Mooney made a new move in his efforts for release from prison today when he filed a suit in equity against the city and county of San Francisco seeking to have set aside the life sentence given him as an aftermath of the preparedness day bomb explosion in 1916.

The suit was also against District Attorney Matthew Brady and charges that Mooney's conviction was brought about by fraud.

The whole case against him, Mooney contends in the action, was "conceived fraudulently," the trial was "irregular," and the judgment against him was "fraudulently conceived and procured by Charles M. Fleckert and Edward A. Cunha."

A similar suit in equity was brought about 19 years ago but "got nowhere," according to Edwin V. McKenzie, attorney for Warren K. Billings, sentenced with Mooney. "The law is against such action," McKenzie declared. "The supreme court has held that we can't go behind the judgment in the case."

MINER BURIED FOR THREE HOURS SAVED

SILVER CITY, Nev., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Three hours of frantic digging saved the life of William Donovan, miner, buried in a cave today. Only his head was protruding when rescuers began their work. Loose rock and fresh slides threatened to bury the entire rescue crew.

BASEBALL RESULTS

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Lou Gehrig hit his 38th home run in the fifth inning with the bases full in the game between the second place Washington Senators and the New York Yankees today. The blow gave Gehrig the home run leadership. Prior to hitting the home run he was tied with his teammate, Babe Ruth, with 37.

P. E. TRAIN, AUTO CRASH; FOUR DIE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Four men were killed and two injured here late last night when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pacific Electric train.

Police reported that the men had been drinking and were enroute to Long Beach when the accident occurred.

The dead:
Robert Craven, 21, of Azusa, driver of the machine.
Roy C. Roberts, 25, San Pedro.
Cecil Gordon, 30, Covina.
Frank Callahan, 28, Azusa.
The injured were Kelly Webster, 26, Los Angeles, and Max Taylor, 17, Azusa. Webster was reported in serious condition, while Taylor suffered only minor injuries.

PRISON FEUD RESUMED IN HOBO JUNGLES; MAN SLAIN

FRESNO, Calif., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Walter Henderson, 28, Negro former convict, was near death today, loser of a quarrel with Arthur Woods, 34, Negro, four-time loser, that apparently started inside prison walls.

Henderson was shot through one lung yesterday by Woods after a continuation, Woods said, of a quarrel that started in Nebraska state penitentiary.

Woods was found on Golden State highway shortly afterward and submitted tamely to arrest, although a revolver was found under his shirt. Officers said he admitted the shooting and told them it was done to revenge a beating Henderson had given him in prison.

Henderson told hospital authorities Woods shot him after he refused to join Woods in a proposed Fresno restaurant holdup.

Woods said he had served terms in Nebraska, Folsom and federal penitentiaries on charges of burglary and robbery.

JAPANESE PAY FINAL TRIBUTE TO LINDBERGH

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Japan's official tribute to Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, a six-day program of receptions and banquets, ends tonight with a dinner in their honor by Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki.

Tomorrow the famous family flying team that made the first aerial vacation trip from the United States to Japan will be free to do as they please. The Lindberghs decided that the first thing they would do would be to visit the summer villa of United States Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes at Karuzawa.

This morning Col. Lindbergh addressed military and civilian aviators. This afternoon he had his photograph taken as the model for a bronze statue. Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were guests at a luncheon given by the Japan Air Transport company.

Yesterday the commoners of Tokyo paid formal honors to their distinguished visitors. A great crowd at Hibiya park cheered the Lindberghs and heard the colonel predict that eventually air travel between the United States and Japan would be common. The affair was a noisy, saucy demonstration on the part of the Tokyo populace and the way in which the Lindberghs entered the spirit of the occasion won them a great reception.

Register Starts New Feature Of Real Humor

Queen Elizabeth was a very wise, good queen, and so she never married—believe it or not that is the answer turned in by a student in a recent school examination and is included in the list of "Boners" being featured by the Santa Ana Register.

This new feature starting tomorrow on the comic page of the Register is a compilation of actual humorous tidbits found by teachers in their scanning of examination papers and essay submitted to them. The most humorous mistakes were not all found in papers by grammar school students, according to the compilers of this feature.

HUFF TO SUPERVISE FAIR FLOWER SHOW

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Under the supervision of Director D. Eymann Huff of Orange, exhibiting counties will make floral displays of a different variety for each day of the 1931 California State Fair, opening September 4th and closing September 12th. The flowers selected for each day are as follows:

First day, gladiolus; second day, carnations; third day, perennial delphiniums; fourth day, garden roses; fifth day, decorative, cactus and show dahlias; sixth day, all other classes of dahlias; seventh day, asters; eighth day, zinnias. Premiums for these displays total $410.

and a second in June for $834,000. On December 15, another batch of certificates mature, totaling $990,000,000, with others aggregating $624,000,000 coming due March 15.

The treasury has had to borrow on a large scale in the last few months to meet expenses. The income tax especially has fallen off, with no immediate prospect of any larger returns from this principal source of revenue. The cost of operating the government has increased gradually. The depression has called for unusual expenditures to help aid the unemployment situation.

A tax increase, it is considered, would help solve some of the fiscal problems, but the administration is set against one at the next session, and democrats apparently are no more anxious than republicans to vote larger levies on the eve of a national election.

The treasury, therefore, is gathering up bills for part of the depression costs, tying them up in bond issues, and putting them on the shelf to be paid by the next generation. Secretary Mellon thus will see the public debt, which he reduced from around $23,000,000,000 to a low point a few months ago of $16,000,000,000 begin to rise again.

The deficit at the end of the last fiscal year, June 30, was $905,000,000. The deficit for the new fiscal year is increasing more rapidly than last year's treasury records show, with indications that it will be larger than the last one.

Violation Of Parking Rule Recovers Car

Lina Rosenbaum, 825 East Third street, Santa Ana, owes the return of her auto, stolen August 20, to the thieves violating a parking ordinance at Newport Beach. The stolen car was parked too long in the green zone on Central avenue between Main and Washington streets and the police tagged it. The thieves left the tagged car where it was parked until a police investigation revealed it was a stolen auto.

tions in reserves considered advisable in the judgment of the board. The board's letter pointed out that it will not be necessary for it to appear before the board of supervisors again in the matter. The supervisors will meet tomorrow to set the tax rates.

Fullerton Concur
R. E. Green, superintendent of the Fullerton elementary schools, ended his conference with Adkinson with the understanding that personally he was ready to concur in the reduction although he does not believe it is the best thing.

M. A. Gauer, superintendent of the Anaheim schools, said he would have to take the matter up with the board of education there before final action is taken in the matter.

In discussing the matter Adkinson said that when he found that all other departments of county government had made cuts in accordance with the 10 per cent cut in assessed valuation, he thought it only fair that the schools should do the same thing. He said that the lateness of the cut was explained partly by the fact that he did not have the final valuations on which to base his estimates until August 15.

The Santa Ana board, in its conference, pointed out that it is desirous of economy and has made cuts in its budget in order to provide for it. Its main interest in the conference was to point out that the last reduction was not made until after it has adopted its budget and this had been approved. Contracts were made on this basis and other obligations assumed which would not have been made if it had known the further cut was to have been made, it was explained.

Letter To Board
Its letter to the board of supervisors follows:
The Honorable Board of Supervisors of Orange County, Santa Ana, California.
Gentlemen:

On Tuesday, August 25, the Board of Education of Santa Ana requested that your Board delay action in finally setting the tax rate of Orange county until such a time as a conference between the Board of Education and the County Superintendent of Schools were possible relative to certain unexpectedly recommended reductions in school income amounting to some $42,000 to the City Schools of Santa Ana—this recommendation coming several months after all previous income estimates by the county offices had confirmed the inclusion of this amount, and after the budget of the city schools had been adopted including all possible major cuts and economies. Since the adoption of that budget, and in accordance with it, the income expected has been almost entirely expended or contracted for.

Today a conference between the County Superintendent of Schools and this board has been held. Since it has been found necessary to reduce seriously the income of all departments of county government the Board of Education of Santa Ana will concur in this further reduction in school income. The board desires to state, however, that it will be necessary to use safety reserves to pay deficits in current maintenance funds to the extent of this $42,000 reduction. From a strictly business point of view, the Board of Education questions the advisability of drastically reducing these reserves further in this manner, since the budget already prepared has called for all reductions in reserves considered advisable in the judgment of the board.

Therefore it will not be necessary for this board to appear again before your body in this matter. The Board of Education desires to express its appreciation to the Board of Supervisors of Orange county for its courtesy and consideration. Respectfully yours,
BOARD OF EDUCATION,
(Signed) George R. Wells, President.

SHIELDS AND WOOD DEFEAT LOTT, DOEG

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB, Chestnut Hill, Mass., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Frank Shields and Sidney Wood advanced to the semi-final round in the men's national tennis doubles championship today, defeating George Lott and John Doeg, 14-16, 6-2, 6-4, 7-5.

The victory qualified Shields and Wood for a semi-final match tomorrow with Gregory Mangin and Berkeley Bell. The lower half semi-final will put Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn against Cliff Sutter and Bruce Barnes. Winners meet for the championship Wednesday.

hearts and minds of our youth to faith and loyalty to this government and belief in the institutions of the United States."

He said the criminal situation in the United States is worse than in any other country.

Tells Crime Cause
"There are many reasons why crime is increasing and there are many reasons why the criminal element is largely composed of young men and women. The principal reasons, however, are the loss of faith in the fundamental institutions, the church, state, law and the home, due to the anarchic and bolshevistic doctrines preached in our schools and public institutions."

In discussing the recent adjusted service certificate loans, O'Neil said that veterans who applied for loans were greatly in need and that most of the loans were made for those who already had borrowed on their certificates.

Regarding legislation likely to be presented to the next congress, the national commander said:

"One of the matters of paramount importance is the question of caring for the dependents of men who are hospitalized. The generous and wholesome plan of the government to restore these men to health and vigor is not working out completely, because men will not go to the hospital and leave their families in want. Provision should be made for allowances to dependents of service men during hospitalization."

Aid Widows, Orphans
"There is also no reason why the widows and orphans of the veterans of the World War should not be accorded the same relief by the government as is being accorded the widows and orphans of the veterans of other wars."

"The members of the American Legion realize better than anyone else the sacrifices and hardships of war," O'Neil said, "and no group is more anxious to insure a permanent peace to this country than this organization. Preservation of national peace and security is closely allied with the problem of taking the profits out of war. The last congress authorized the appointment of a war policies commission who are studying the problems connected with universal service in time of war. I recommend that a strong resolution be adopted by each department urging that support be given to this proposal.

Naval Program Imperative
"It seems imperative that we should sponsor legislation for naval construction that will bring us up to the London treaty parity; we should let it be known that the Legion is not content with a blue print navy.

"We should sponsor all legislation, in conformity with the permanent national defense policy, that will provide adequate protection to our country."

Local Briefs

Alexander Salcedo, 14 year old boy residing at 2000 West Fifth street, suffered a broken right arm Saturday afternoon while skating near his home. The boy was taken to the Orange county hospital.

Louis Vollmer and family have moved to Santa Ana from Springfield, Illinois, and will make their home at 409 Orange avenue. It was learned today, Vollmer represents the Chasler-Lyon company of Los Angeles in Orange county.

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers and are not necessarily those of The Register.

I read with considerable surprise the communication in the Register of Saturday from my friend J. C. Metzger in opposition to the Metropolitan district bonds. My surprise was occasioned by the fact that at 10:00 a. m. Tuesday, August 18 he came to my office by appointment and solicited employment to handle the campaign for promoting the bond issue in this city, stating that he favored it.

At that time he was in possession of the criticisms being made by a private power company, not operating in this community, because he told me of them. Notwithstanding these he claimed to favor the bonds and was willing to handle the public campaign for us if we would pay him for it.

I advised him that I and others were working in the interests of Santa Ana and the bonds without one cent of financial compensation and that our plan was to have Santa Ana citizens interested in their community voluntarily devote the time necessary to acquaint our citizens with the necessity for the Colorado river water. I told him that we would appreciate any help he could give on that basis.

He left the office impressing me that he was not in harmony with this plan of voluntary service. Mr. Metzger either favored the bonds, as he stated to me or he was opposed to them as he intimates in his communication. If he was opposed to them, he stands in the position of trying to get employed by a committee organized for the purpose of aiding their approval.

If he was in favor of them, as he stated, and declined to join with others volunteering their services, and within a few days declares his opposition, each one is entitled to his own idea of the reason.

It is a very peculiar coincidence that the objections given in two communications written about August 14 by parties said to be employed by an outside power company—copies of which are in my possession—are very similar to the ones presented in Mr. Metzger's communication, most of which is misleading and untrue.

For instance the distribution of water is not based "on assessed valuations from year to year," but as per act under which the district is organized, "each city shall have a preferential right to purchase from the district the same ratio of water which the total amount paid in taxes bears to the total amount paid by all the cities." In other words each city gets exactly what it pays for and there is no chance for Los Angeles or any other city to get more than it pays for.

SENTENCE MEN FOR THEFT OF GAS AT RANCH

Assented to have been the thieves who stole a tank containing 25 gallons of gasoline from the ranch of E. A. Bennett, on the Crescent Road, west of Anaheim, Saturday night, two men were arrested last night by Officers Dungan and Brown, members of the county fruit patrol, when the men came back after the tank last night.

The prisoners gave the names of Walter C. Dunham, 443 Barbara avenue, Azusa, and John Tipton, 500 Foothill boulevard, Azusa. But were booked at the county jail on petty theft charges.

Officers Dungan reported that the theft was made early Saturday night, the thieves taking the tank to a nearby sand pit where they drained 20 gallons of gas from it. Not having enough containers for the remainder, they left the tank and returned last night. When they started to drain the tank again, officers who had been waiting for them made the arrests.

Both were sentenced to 30 days in jail today, on pleas of guilty entered in Judge Charles Kuchel's court at Anaheim.

DENVER.—Exchange of marginal farm lands for land script, with the indefinite retirement from production activities of unsuccessful farmers, is a novel solution of the problem of over-production offered by Jesse M. Oldham of Denver, widely known throughout the west as an expert land appraiser and business man.

The federal government throughout its history has given homestead land to settlers. Untold acres of these homesteads have been turned into farming lands, many of them now operating at a loss. So, why, asks Oldham, not turn them back to the government, cease production until the margin between production and consumption is equalized, and then there will be no surplus to harass the farmer, and no over-production to unsettle the economic structure of the country.

Oldham's plan represents several years research and has the tentative approval, he says, of several agricultural leaders and bankers in the west.

No Additional Taxation
The details of Oldham's plan have been worked out to fit into existing governmental machinery, so that no new legislation will be required to make it operative. No additional taxation or added governmental expenditure is involved, Oldham declared in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Outlining his plan, Oldham said: "The problem of over-production arising from world economic changes, is attacked in such a way that American farmers with marginal lands who are forced to quit production can retire, or change their vocations, without financial loss. This is provided for by the return of the lands they now till, at a loss, to the government and receiving therefor land script, issued through governmental land offices.

"In the beginning the government gave homestead lands to settlers by issuing patents to the land, upon completion of a required time of residence and completion of improvements thereon. Upon surrender back to the government of such lands now there may be issued land script to the land owner in the amount of the value of the surrendered land.

"That this may be done fairly, accurate appraisals can be assured by enlisting the services of the present land appraisal machinery of the federal land banks.

"The issuing of land script would be tantamount to giving a receipt to the present owner of the land for the return of the land to the original donor—the United States government. The government would retain the lands and administer it, along with the present public domain, which now consists of millions of acres.

Script Would Pay Interest
"As the lands thus surrendered for script are certain to be needed by the coming generations, the holders of the script would have a tangible asset that would pay a small rate of interest and thus be marketable.

"Also the surrendered lands would have a revenue value to the government because of their grazing possibilities.

"Future homeseekers could acquire the land script and use it in later years for the repossession of lands that are wanted, or needed, to increase production as the country grows.

"The retiring of marginal land owners in this manner would restore values to farms remaining in operation, and at the same time strengthen the financial standing of retiring farmers. When it was made clear that certain amounts of land would be retired from production, the credit and revenue of those remaining in farm production business would be greatly enhanced. Production would readily be brought more closely to consumption and large surpluses entirely eliminated. "As the need for increased production appears, retired farm lands would be available to the coming generations. In addition, the retired lands would also be made available in the future to new homesteaders."

Oldham expressed the belief that adoption of his plan would soon remove the cause of overproduction. "It is legal, orthodox and adaptable to existing governmental machinery, and a real 'farm relief measure,'" Oldham declared.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—In the life of Anton J. Cermak, recently elected mayor of Chicago over William Hale Thompson by a majority of nearly 200,000, is found ample cause for America's being characterized as the "land of opportunity."

Cermak's career, in many respects, is similar to that of Lincoln, of Edward Bok, of Henry Ford. It is not unlike the "success" stories that flowed from the pen of Horatio Alger, Jr.

Born in a mining village near Prague, the present capital of Czechoslovakia, Cermak was brought to this country by his parents when he was one year old. His father was a miner, and it was intended that the son should follow him in regard to occupation.

When he was 11 he had worked in the Illinois mine fields and at 16 had become a spokesman for a group of miners. The men wanted a raise and young Cermak passed the information on to the boss. As a result, he was fired.

Within three years after he came to Chicago, Cermak had saved enough to buy a team of horses and start a trucking business. In time, through good management and industry, he owned 40 teams.

When he was 21 the future mayor married and built a house for his bride. Mrs. Cermak, who died in 1928, bore him three daughters. Cermak, only 33, today has grandchildren approaching manhood and womanhood.

As soon as he was able to vote, the immigrant youth took an interest in the politics of the city. He was appointed a court clerk in 1902 by Mayor Harrison, to whose home he had been delivering kindling a few years before. He was elected to the state legislature in the same year and since that time his rise from one public office to another has been unbroken.

Liked Politics
Noted for his attention to detail, Cermak played the game of politics assiduously. He has always contended that the best public servant was the man who understood political maneuvering.

Throughout his career, however, there was one phase in which politics played no part. This was in the administration of humane institutions, such as the county hospital and the Oak Forest home.

At the start of his presidency of the county board of commissioners, back in 1922, Cermak insisted that the finest staffs and the most efficient equipment be installed in all county institutions. He jealously guarded against the entrance of political influence into

PLAN NEW ASSAULT ON HAWKS' RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—(CUP)—James H. Doolittle announced today that he will attempt to shatter Frank Hawks' transcontinental air speed mark when he flies east, probably Tuesday, in the Los Angeles to Cleveland race.

Doolittle said he planned to take off with the other race fliers, touch the wheels of his new speed plane to the ground at the finish line in Cleveland and then continue on to New York without stopping.

Other fliers who planned to compete in the race to Cleveland include Captain Ira Eaker, James Hall, Beeler Hewins, Lou Richbach, Harold Johnson, Arthur Goebel, Roscoe Turner and Walter J. Hunt.

The aviators planned to meet tonight to determine the exact time of their departure. It was believed they would agree to start at 2 a. m. Tuesday.

Tells Anecdote
"When I was first elected to the legislature I walked down the street thinking that everybody in the neighborhood was at the window trying to get a look at me. I thought I was quite a big fellow. But I soon got over that idea."

"I learned after a bit that issues and a record of achievements are more important than personalities and that the voters want action along the right lines. I soon came to the conclusion that my success was based on the things I had been able to do, and the constructive measures I was advocating."

Between the time he served as state representative and as president of the county organization, Cermak was an alderman and a bailiff of the municipal court. He has long been recognized as the leader of Cook county democracy.

Cermak has been in the political stream too long to place a great deal of faith in personalities. He has been a believer in efficiency, in the value of a meritorious record and in a solidified organization. The mayor's philosophy is demonstrated in the following, one of his favorite anecdotes:

THREE APPEAR ON CHARGES OF GRAND THEFT

Three grand theft cases were before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel today. One resulted in a San Quentin sentence, one in a scheduled probation hearing and one in a trial before a jury.

Francisco Flores, the youth whose trial began today, is accused of having stolen an automobile belonging to Carl Stoffel, of Anaheim. Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman appeared for the prosecution while G. R. Bradley was counsel for Flores.

Johnnie Garcia, who had pleaded guilty to a grand theft charge, appeared before the court and applied for probation. His hearing was set for September 4.

John Black, who pleaded guilty to a grand theft charge of Friday, appeared before the court and received a San Quentin sentence. The law prescribes a term of one to 10 years for grand theft.

ARREST SALESMAN ON BENCH WARRANT

Walter C. Rowell, Santa Ana real estate man, charged with assault in a complaint signed by his wife, called to appear in court Saturday on the charge after having been released on his own recognizance.

He was later arrested on a bench warrant and lodged in the county jail. This afternoon attorneys for the city and the defendant were fighting the case in Judge J. G. Mitchell's court.

According to the police, Rowell sent a note to Judge Mitchell Saturday signed by his physician to the effect that he was "nervous." Officers checked the report with a physician of their own but were not allowed entrance into the house where Rowell was staying, Chief Howard reported. Then the bench warrant for his arrest was issued and the man was taken to jail. He later made bail of $200 for his appearance in court today and at 10 a. m. today he was present.

Rowell lives at 418 West Second street.

PURINTON QUILTS MARKET POSITION

Today Frank L. Purinton, former mayor of Santa Ana, retired from the Santa Ana Development company, with which he has been associated as secretary, as well as manager of its principal holding, the Grand Central Market building, for the past 10 years.

Purinton will continue to make his home in Santa Ana, having recently acquired a 10-acre orange grove from A. C. Hasenjaeger as part consideration for his interests in the market company.

Hasenjaeger succeeds him as secretary of the concern, as well as on the board of directors. J. H. Boardman steps up to the position of manager of the Grand Central Market building, having been assistant manager for the past year. Boardman came to Santa Ana after occupying similar executive positions in Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco.

BEGIN SEARCH FOR W. M. LAWRENCE, 60

Santa Ana police have been asked to make a search for William M. Lawrence, 64, of 602 East Fourth street, who has been missing from his home since August 10, according to a police report.

When last seen he was driving a sedan and because he left no word that he was leaving the city or that he expected to be gone from home, some apprehension for his safety is felt by his friends. He is five feet, 10½ inches, weighs 160 pounds, has a reddish brown mustache, brown eyes and grey hair.

Police News

H. O. Meyers, of 1424 Maple street, Santa Ana, reported the theft of his automobile from a place where it was parked near the Hall of Records building, Saturday afternoon.

Charged with being drunk, Dolores Himes, 45, of Delhi, was arrested by Police Officers McWilliams and Murillo on South Main street yesterday. The man was lodged in the county jail.

Manuel Guazo, charged with being drunk, was arrested at Fourth and French streets, yesterday by Officers Heard and Prichard.

Celso Medina, 36, charged with possession of liquor, was arrested at Irvine park yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff H. F. Moore. The man was brought to jail here. He is said to have had a small quantity of liquor in an automobile parked at the park.

FACES 2 CHARGES AFTER ROW IN HOME

Fred Williams, 31, of 1611 Palm street, was arrested yesterday by Officers McWilliams and Prichard, charged with assault and drunkenness, after he is asserted to have broken into the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Motry, at 1619 Palm street, and started a row with the aged couple.

Mrs. Motry reported that several men had been drinking on their front lawn and that all of them left with the exception of Williams, who came into the house, grabbed her by the arm and also grabbed a Mrs. Hutchens, a neighbor. Motry came to the rescue and held the man off until police arrived, it was reported.

TWO FIRES OVER WEEKEND IN S. A.

Fire which started from an unknown cause in the rear end of the Orange County Auto Parts Company, 215 North Sycamore street, yesterday afternoon, was extinguished without any loss.

Several employees of the company, sitting in the office of the building smelled smoke and discovered the blaze, which they extinguished.

Police Officer Lon Morris, walking his beat on North Birch street at 2:15 a. m. today, discovered a small fire in the rear of the King Coffee Shop, 312 North Birch street. He broke in the door and put out the fire before it gained any headway, it was reported.

Robert Stassin Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services for Robert Stassin, 64, who passed away in the Orange county hospital yesterday after an extended illness, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. from the Harrell and Brown Funeral home. He was a native of Belgium, had lived in the United States for 37 years and in California for 8 years.

He is survived by two sons, Robert H. Stassin and Alfred G. Stassin, both of Santa Ana.

Following the services tomorrow, interment will be made in the Fairhaven cemetery.

Juveniles Defeat Huntington Park

The La Habra Juveniles defeated the Huntington Park Elks, 15-1, at La Habra yesterday. The score:

FARM BUREAU SUBJECT

Roland D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, will be the speaker on the Farm Bureau broadcast period from KREG tonight. His subject will be "Agriculture's Stand on the Fifteen Per Cent Freight Rate Increase."

LAW FIRM ADDS JOHN MARTELL AS PARTNER

John Martell, well known Santa Ana attorney, today had joined the firm of Drumm, Tucker and Drumm, of this city as a partner. The new firm will be known as Drumm, Tucker, Martell and Drumm.

Martell, who received his legal training at the University of Southern California, has practiced law in Santa Ana since 1922. Until recently he was associated with Clyde Downing, now city attorney of Santa Ana. Martell is a Shriner, a Mason, an Elk and a member of Post 131, American Legion.

F. C. Drumm, senior member of the firm, has been engaged in the practice of law in Orange county for 20 years. He was on the superior court bench here from 1923 to 1925 inclusive. He recently served as president of the Orange County Bar association.

J. B. Tucker has been a member of the firm for the past five years. He retired from the superior bench in Utah five years ago to join Drumm in the law practice here. He is president of the Santa Ana Rotary club.

Alvin Drumm, son of F. C. Drumm, became associated with the firm as a partner two years ago, having graduated from the University of Southern California law school.

Offices of the firm are in the First National bank building.

CEREUS PLANT HAS SECOND CROP BUDS

Night-blooming cereus plants are attracting considerable attention just at present as their blossoming season reaches its height, but Mrs. Jennie Ellis of 304 North Olive street, has a specimen that is believed to have achieved a Southland record in the number of flowers it has produced. It is now in its second blooming for the season, having formed and matured a number of buds about a month ago, something that is believed to be rare in the history of the plant.

A second crop of buds began forming immediately, until there were 18 to be counted at once. One or two opened a few nights ago and last night there were seven full-blown blooms to scent the air for yards around. Mrs. Ellis today extended an invitation to anyone who would care to come to her home and see the big plant tonight, when five buds will open.

The buds will start to open shortly after dark, but will not be at their loveliest until about 8:30 o'clock, after which they will remain wide open until the coming of dawn causes them to fade and close.

SEEK SOLUTION TO MYSTERY BURGLARY

Deputy Sheriffs were today trying to solve the "mystery" of a reported burglary at the home of W. H. Kennedy, Anaheim Route No. 1, yesterday, while members of the family were away from home.

The house was badly torn up and a crock of liquor was taken out of the place and dumped in a grove nearby, but nothing was reported stolen, according to L. H. Nicholson, deputy sheriff.

The house resembled a place where a fight had taken place, according to Nicholson. A screen was found unhooked, but there were no footprints leading in or to the window. Furniture was thrown upside down, part of the stove was knocked off and the two bedrooms and the kitchen were found in a disorderly manner.

ARREST THREE AS DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Three persons were arrested over the week-end by Orange county authorities on charges of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor. All were lodged in the county jail.

Carrie Rust, 38, Los Angeles woman, was arrested by Chief of Police Williams of Brea at 3 a. m. Sunday. Tom Mick, 24, of 114 South Palm street, Fullerton, was arrested at 4 p. m. yesterday by State Officer Ray Bradfield and R. H. LaFevre, of Riverside, was taken into custody by Constable George Bartley, of Orange, yesterday.

Poultrymen To Attend Session

Local members of the executive committee of the Seven Southern Counties Poultry association are planning to attend an executive session to be held in the Poultrymen's Co-operative association plant in Los Angeles tomorrow. Those who plan to attend are Roland D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, and W. C. Childers, of Santa Ana.

The poultry association in Los Angeles is a newly organized co-operative marketing organization and the meeting is to be held to find methods whereby the farm bureau can be of assistance in helping develop the organization. Other problems concerning the accrediting of chicks, egg standards and other problems are to be considered.

HURT FAMILY MEMBERS ARE HURT IN CRASH

Four persons, all named Hurt, were injured in an automobile accident at Smeltzer and Verona Roads, at 7:30 o'clock last night, when a car driven by Charles Hurt, of Huntington Beach, collided with an automobile reported driven by W. F. Fintel, of 814 East Fourth street, Pomona, according to a report filed with the California Highway Patrol.

The injured were Charles T. Hurt, 42, W. F. Hurt, 35, Bertha M. Hurt, 38 and Mary Lou Hurt, 14. All were cut and bruised slightly. No one in the Fintel machine was reported injured.

Accidents in Orange county over the week end were few in spite of heavy traffic which lined the beach roads throughout the two days, Saturday and Sunday. Traffic officers said that traffic was unusually well behaved over the week end.

Lee Newman, 35, of 109 Yale street, Claremont, a passenger in a car driven by Hal W. Powell, 34, of 270 West Tenth street, Claremont, suffered a fractured right arm and serious cuts and bruises, when the car in which he was riding collided head on with a truck on West First street, at the Santa Ana river crossing at 7 p. m. yesterday.

The truck was driven by Milton Hennessy, 17, of Riverside, according to a report filed with police officers.

According to Lloyd Groover, member of the California State Highway Patrol, the car in which Newman was riding struck a dip, careened into the truck and then turned over at the side of the road. Powell was not injured.

A. Galvan, of Anaheim, was reported injured when the car in which he was riding with Fredicia

CHEF DE GARE

J. W. "Slim" Colwell, below, of Garden Grove was elected Chef de Gare of the "Forty and Eight" Society at the American Legion state convention in Long Beach. He is proprietor of the Garden Grove Inn.

Luna, 24, Anaheim, ran off the road on Haster avenue and crashed into a tree. He was taken to the county hospital, where it was said his injuries were not of a serious nature.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz, of Costa Mesa were today patients in the Orange county hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises received in an automobile accident there yesterday. No report of the accident has been made to authorities.

Blanche Young, Colwell, Named To Legion Posts

Election of officers at the state convention of American Legion fun societies, the 40 and 8 and the 8 and 40, the auxiliary organization, held yesterday at the municipal auditorium in Long Beach resulted in the selection of two Orange county members for state offices, it was learned today.

J. W. "Slim" Colwell of Garden Grove was elected grand chef de gare of the 40 and 8 on the first ballot cast yesterday. This is the highest office attainable in the state organization. He operates the Garden Grove Inn in Garden Grove. He has been commander of the Ventura American Legion post and of the Garden Grove post.

Blanche Young of Santa Ana was elected La Archivist of the 8 and 40 organization yesterday.

Court Notes

Fred J. Robinson has brought suit against W. Dean Johnston, Ruth L. Johnston and Nancy G. Robinson, asking the court to declare void conveyances of property alleged to have been made by Johnston to the other defendants. The plaintiff claimed the transfers were made without consideration and to defraud Robinson's creditors.

Claiming that the defendant had a former husband living at the time of her marriage to William Jesse Furbur in 1928, the latter has brought suit against Ruby Ruth Furbur, seeking to have the marriage annulled.

Johnnie Garcia has pleaded guilty to a charge of grand theft in superior court and he will be sentenced today. George Comas pleaded not guilty in the same case and will be tried September 14.

MASONS PLAN GALA EVENT IN NEW TEMPLE FOR VISIT OF FAMOUS MASONIC CLUB

Fully 1000 Masons are expected to gather at the new Masonic Temple in Santa Ana the evening of Saturday, October 10, when the famous 233 Club of Hollywood will visit Jubilee Lodge, No. 604, F. and A. M. and will exemplify the dramatic ritualistic work of the Master Mason degree, it was announced today by lodge officials.

The 233 Club is one of the most famous Masonic organizations in the West, its personnel being made up largely of noted screen actors of the movie colony. Such is its popularity that its every available date is always booked months ahead. For this reason H. C. Collins, Master of Jubilee Lodge, and his brother officers were highly elated when several weeks of correspondence with the club resulted in obtaining the engagement here.

Local Masons feel that this is an especially noteworthy occasion in that it will be the first big event to be given in Santa Ana's new $300,000 Masonic Temple following its dedication early in September. As this structure is the finest of its kind in Orange county and one of the most pretentious in Southern California, and will then have been open only a few weeks it is expected that many members of the Masonic fraternity from distant points will grasp the opportunity to see the famous 233 Club in action and to inspect the new temple at the same visit.

An invariable feature of the 233 Club's visits is the banquet and program that follow the initiatory work. The members of the club, nearly all professional entertainers, always make the evening memorable with fun, though the club includes several noted orators who usually set forth the impressive higher ideals of the fraternity.

Rex B. Goodell, one of the best known Masons of California, an orator of note and four years ago candidate for governor of the state, is chairman of the club's board of directors, and, though an attorney and not an actor, is active in the

FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Gertrude Hatfield of Malvern avenue has left for her old home in Bradford, Pa. She plans to remain a year on the trip. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gregory will occupy the Hatfield home during her absence.

The Rev. Francis E. Hawes, pastor of the Fullerton Baptist church, with Mrs. Hawes and her twin sister, Mrs. W. E. Richardson of Phoenix, Ariz., returned Thursday from a two weeks' motor trip. Their journey took them to Reno, Lake Tahoe and Klamath and other northern points.

A group of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McNay and family of West America avenue Thursday evening, calling at their home and bringing with them refreshments. Those participating met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will French on West Commonwealth avenue.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Beckemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schalley, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Crow and Mr. and Mrs. French.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Montague of Tucson, Ariz., are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith of West Whittier avenue. Dr. and Mrs. Montague resided in Fullerton for several years, coming as pastor of the First Methodist church in 1922 and remaining until 1924. They plan to remain in Fullerton for some time, staying with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Montague, a son and daughter-in-law on East Chapman avenue.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Cobb, pastor of Fullerton Four Square Gospel church, with Mr. and Mrs. O. Dunham and Mrs. Martha Ashion, motored to Los Angeles Wednesday night to see Mrs. Almee Sample McPherson's new oratorio.

A number of Fullerton friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oliver and daughter, Beverly Jean, with a combined birthday and farewell dinner Thursday night at their Long Beach home. Beverly Jean was celebrating her fifth anniversary. The family is planning to move soon to San Diego. The friends prepared a surprise dinner which they took with them for the occasion. Attending were Mrs. Elsie Buchanan and sons, George and Richard, Mrs. Grace Shell and daughters, Mildred and Lois, and J. F. McConnell.

Sixteen friends were invited to attend a beach party given by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Yeats, West Whittier avenue, at Newport Beach Thursday evening. Those attending had a picnic dinner on the beach and spent the evening swimming and at beach games. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Gillilan, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard West, Mr. and Mrs. William Webster, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eisenacher, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jones Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMaster.

Miss Frances Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Barber of Stephens avenue, left last evening to spend the week end with her aunt, Miss Helen Barber, of Grand View, Los Angeles.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kurtz of North Pomona avenue are Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ayre of Los Angeles, a brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Kurtz, who spent last night at the home, and a son, the Rev. S. B. Kurtz, and wife of Lemon Grove, who are making an indefinite stay.

LOS ALAMITOS

LOS ALAMITOS, Aug. 31.—Several Los Alamitos people were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Brandt at the night baseball game at Wrigley field Friday night. They were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Comier, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Green and H. B. Knox.

The moonlight pajama dance given by members of the Farmers and Merchants' exchange club was attended by a capacity crowd. Many beautiful pajama suits were displayed. Music was provided by H. B. (Petey) Knox and Steve Green.

Funeral services for Miss Petra Navarro, who formerly lived on Walnut street, and who passed away in Arlington hospital, were held at Arlington.

The pie social held in Community church Wednesday was a splendid success.

Mrs. M. F. Korherr and Mrs. John Sjostrom were hostesses to the Pinochle club Tuesday evening in the Exchange club. Miss Lucille Korherr and Gus Brandt made high scores.

A cotillion party sponsored by the Willing Workers was held in the home of Mrs. O. E. Taylor, of Green street. First prize was won by Mrs. Felton Doss with consolation going to Mrs. Gustave Brandt.

SEARCH FOR BEAUTY GOES ON UNABATED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 31.—(UP)—There seems to be no "depression" as far as the search for beauty in California is concerned. According to a report of the state board of cosmetology, a total of 20,297 licenses has been issued this year, a gain of approximately 10 per cent over 1930.

During the year the board has completed 5,326 investigations, with only eight prosecutions. No suspensions or cancellations have been reported since the close of the previous fiscal year.

In its report to Governor Rolph, the board called attention to the record as an example of the co-operation offered by beauty parlor proprietors throughout the state in complying with the laws regulating cosmetology.

Failed To Leave So He's In Jail

Robert Worthington, 20, was told that if he would get out of Santa Ana and stay out, that a charge of drunkenness against him in Santa Ana police court would be dropped. This was on last Friday.

Last night, when officers found him on the streets here, they "picked him up" and lodged him in the county jail, booked for "failure to leave town."

ANAHEIM, Aug. 31.—Following a raid conducted by Chief of Police James B. Sullivan, Sergeant Frank J. Sullivan and Officer Sullivan on a restaurant owned by J. W. Sullivan at 443 Tenth street last night, Sullivan was arrested and booked at the police station on a charge of possession of liquor. A quantity of liquor was found in the establishment belonging to Sullivan. Sullivan had been arrested five times previously on liquor charges. He has been fined from $100 to $500 in the past.

450 EXPECTED IN BUENA PARK GRADE SCHOOLS

BUENA PARK, Aug. 31.—With Buena Park grammar schools opening September 14, Arthur P. Corey, superintendent, estimates the enrollment of 450 pupils. The combined enrollment of the two schools last year was 416 pupils on the third day of school and this year's enrollment is not anticipated to exceed that mark.

Brotherhood Session Draws Crowd Sunday

LA HABRA, Aug. 31.—A large audience attended the district convention of the summer session Sunday night. The program was sponsored by the Federated Brotherhood of La Habra. William R. Litchfield of Los Angeles, president of the Southern California Council of Religious Education, was the speaker of the evening.

Midway City

MIDWAY CITY, Aug. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smalley were victims of an automobile accident Friday night in which Mrs. Smalley sustained a broken arm and broken ribs, while Mr. Smalley had two ribs broken. Mr. and Mrs. Smalley left Midway City that day for Oregon, having received word that their daughter, Mrs. James Montgomery, was to be operated upon. They had reached Newhall when a car dashed from a service station across the street and into their car, causing the injuries to the occupants.

Bridge Work At Newport Slated To Start Soon

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 31.—Work is soon to start on the new bridge to carry the state highway over the upper bay, equipment having been moved to the location by the contractors, J. E. Metzger and Sons of Los Angeles, who got the work with a $25,000 bid.

THE FAT BIB IT

LONDON.—A dog was caught in a gate in several Parisian terraces. Several citizens tried unsuccessfully to release the animal. Three policemen were called and with a crowbar and other instruments they endeavored to free the dog. Just as they were ready to give up a car ran in from the dog. With a convulsive jerk, the canine leaped out of the gate and gave chase to the car.

3 Men Loot 2 Machines Of Pennies

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 31.—Three men driving a blue coupe robbed a woman of $200,000 in pennies at 2100 N. Newport. The men drove the car to the beach and going across the street to Ed Moore's store, robbed another woman weighing machine. These are penny weighing machines and are emptied every few days so they did not contain more than a couple of dollars at last.

Placentia

PLACENTIA, Aug. 31.—Plans for a cutting near Thursday were made by members of the Dorcas society of Calvary church at their regular all day meeting held at the church when they received an invitation to spend the day with Mrs. J. P. Prather at her Lakeview home. Weather was so good that the church in the afternoon. Mrs. Prather requested that gifts for the South American missionary, Rev. William Turley, be brought in as soon as possible. Mrs. Thelma Green plans to take them with her when she returns to the Panama Canal Zone.

Committees For Year Appointed By P. T. A. Head

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 31.—An executive board meeting was called by Mrs. Pearl Bell, president of the Westminster Parent-Teacher association, Friday afternoon that committee heads for the term might be selected.

Anaheim Water Meet Postponed

ANAHEIM, Aug. 31.—Announcement has been made by Leo J. Sheridan, chairman of the Citizens Water committee, that the meeting scheduled to be held tonight in the city hall has been postponed until September 14. The fact that a championship ball game between Anaheim and Santa Ana is to be played tonight was given as the reason for the postponement.

ALTHOUGH CARS CHANGE, OILS REMAIN SAME

Progress in motor car manufacturing and all affiliated branches of industry has far out-distanced progress in the manufacturing of motor oils, according to T. S. Hunter, local distributor of Penn-Cas castor-blended motor oil. "Many motorists are using today practically the same motor oils which they used 10 or 15 years ago. In spite of the marked changes in automobile design, which has given us the high-speed motor and other advanced features, the question of oil has been neglected. "Automotive engineers have known for a long time that castor oil is the most efficient lubricant obtainable anywhere. It was used in fighting planes during the world war and is still being used extensively by racing drivers on the speedway. "While experiments have been carried on for sometime to blend castor oil and mineral oil, it remained for the Pennant Oil &

Grease company of Los Angeles to work out a satisfactory formula. This modern motor oil protects as well as lubricates. It provides a protective film over all working parts, including the upper cylinder walls. It reduces over-heating and wear. Carbon is prevented and the danger of sticky valves is largely eliminated. "Penn-Cas castor-blended motor oil has figured in several sensational record-breaking speed runs. For example, a new second-gear record from Los Angeles to San Diego—2 hours and 57 minutes—was made with Penn-Cas. Also, a new second-gear record from Los Angeles to San Francisco of 10 hours and 44 minutes was made with a Penn-Cas lubricated motor. At Bakerfield, Cal., a car, lubri-cated with Penn-Cas, set a new mile dirt track record of 700 miles in 677 minutes. In a careful comparative test of motor oils made by a large transportation company, operating a fleet of busses, the engineers estimated that this company would save $8000 a year by using Penn-Cas motor oil.

SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Aug. 31.—The San Clemente Women's club, Mrs. J. B. Lape president, will meet at the Social club Tuesday afternoon in the first regular meeting of the fall and winter session. Mrs. Roy Divil entertained at bridge at her home on El Camino

Real recently. First prize was won by Mrs. John Riley and consolation was awarded Mrs. Virgil Westbrook. Those present were Mrs. Roy Divil, hostess; Mesdames Bert Hymer, Frank Houser, Robert Plume, John Riley, J. B. Lape, J. W. Barry, W. Ed Edwards and Virgil Westbrook. Homer B. Randolph, 36, of the U. S. S. Pinola, San Diego, was married yesterday morning to Beatrice M. Schuster, 32, 4010 Fourth street, San Diego, by Judge Fred S. Warner. The American Legion auxiliary of San Clemente will hold a food sale in front of the Dee Wolfe plumbing shop on Del Mar Saturday morning. Miss Gilda Marchetti, one time noted grand opera singer, former casting director of the foreign department of Fox and now connected with the Italo tone and Trufo companies, has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Teavaglin of San Clemente. Miss Marchetti left for Los Angeles today after a week's visit in the Spanish village. The quick work of Sam Millon and his brother saved the car of Mrs. Stella Easley from destruction yesterday noon. The car, driven by Bill Easley, caught afire near the Millon service station. Sam and his brother grabbed fire extinguishers and soon had the blaze under control. Ten Boy Scouts and a patrol leader comprise the San Clemente

Boy Scout troop of which Roland Peterson is Scoutmaster and P. Clearwater, assistant Scoutmaster. The Scouts are Frank Woodman, Jim Barry, Roy Divil Jr., Robert Addaway, Kermit Westbrook, Bob Adair, Robert Comber, Cecil Gathout, Melvin Gant, Chateau Tierry, Bruce Rogers and Russell Schneberger, patrol leader. The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth is chairman of the troop committee of the following members: A. E. Adair, J. H. Bennett, W. J. Barry and Win Keel. Mr. and Mrs. William B. Beveridge, of Phoenix, were visitors here yesterday. Beveridge is in the employ of the telephone company in the Arizona city.

LOS ALAMITOS
LOS ALAMITOS, Aug. 31.—The first regular meeting of the Los Alamitos P. T. T. will be held October 1. Meanwhile, all parents and those interested in the general welfare of the school children are urged to enroll as members. There will be two sections of the kindergarten this year. The children who attended last year will be in the advanced section until old enough to enter the first grade. If they will be six years of age by March 14, 1932, they will skip the advanced kindergarten and enter the first grade immediately.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Teaching "Lefty" Grove control was a problem that defied some of the best minds of the game for a long while after Mose came to the majors—it was Cy Perkins' idea that Lefty should work more slowly... The impatient Lefty was all for walking to the rubber, rarin' back and pitching that old fast one... Perkins advised him to a certain number before each pitch to smarten up his mind to Grove's trick—and instructed the batters to stand there and count with him, and when he had finished the count to step back out of the box and throw him off his timing... Lefty fooled them finally by lengthening or shortening the pause, and they didn't know how long he was going to stand before shooting it across.

WILL GROVE WEAKEN

Old Sarge Gabby Street, leading the Cardinals pennantward for the second time, expresses the belief (you might call it the hope) that before long Robert Moses Grove is going to receive what is sportively known as "the lumps."

"I think Grove will weaken toward the end of the year," says Sarge. "Look what happened to Margard after he won 19 straight. And I think Grove will just about hit his slump during the world series."

Perhaps the wish is father of the thought. Gabby would like nothing better than revenge on the team that kicked his Cards last fall. Of a fighting disposition, he will take his team into the world series in mood for murder.

But I wouldn't bet my shirt on Old Mose breaking down. Not with winter coming on, Gabby, old boy. And I am not guessing, either.

EXPERT TESTIMONY

Down at the spring training quarters of the Athletics at Fort Myers, once upon a time, I button-holed Doc Ebling, trainer of the A's in search of some expert advice about certain athletes' wind and limbs. There had been a rumor during the winter that Mose had been nursing a sore shoulder due to over-exertion in a barnstorming tour. This would have been fairly interesting, if true, since the A's without Grove would be not quite so devastating a ball club.

"You can say for me," Doc Ebling replied to my question, "that Grove will have a good left arm as long as he is able to stagger out to the mound and bear down in his arm like a rawhide whip."

"When he came up from Baltimore he used to bear down and shoot that straight fast one without variation. He was mighty good with it (I'll say he was, doc!) but he threw so many swift ones that his fingers became raw. He had to rest because of his fingers, not because of his arm."

TAKING IT EASY

"Now he has mastered a change of pace. Batters need to get set for his straight speed and knock him around, not often, but every once in a while. They can't get set for him now. He throws a few at half-speed and makes them look silly."

"This change of pace not only made him tough to guess, but added years to the life of his arm."

"Another thing, Grove doesn't pitch with a whole lot of effort. He burns the ball in with a natural and practical motion that is not only easy on his arm but his legs, too."

"It is my guess that Grove will be good for at least 15 years in the major leagues, and I mean that he will be a top-notch left-hander that long. He has one of the most wonderful arms I ever handled."

SAINTS BEGIN 1931 FOOTBALL DRILL TUESDAY

Santa Ana's 1931 football season on semi-officially began today. High school team candidates were reporting throughout the morning and afternoon at Andrews gymnasium where they were being greeted by Coach "Tex" Oliver.

Players were being fitted to uniforms and issued all of the other necessary paraphernalia.

Practice will begin in dead earnest tomorrow, the first day possible under Coast Preparatory league rules.

Oliver and his assistant, Coach Bill Foote, will have charge of the workouts which at first will be conducted twice daily, morning and afternoon.

The Saint skippers expect to size up their material in the next two weeks and gain a definite idea as to who is who even before school opens in two weeks.

Santa Ana's first game is scheduled for Friday, September 13, the first week of school, and in that game Oliver will use only players who report for training this and next week. The others will have to make up all the lost ground.

Oliver expects a turnout of more than 50 tomorrow.

REUTHER RELEASED BY PORTLAND CLUB

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31.—(UP)—It appears to be just about the end of the trail for old "Dutch" Reuther, veteran pitcher of the Pacific Coast league and the big league. "Dutch" was given his unconditional release today by the Portland Beavers after he let in five runs in the first inning against the San Francisco Seals Sunday. It was his second unconditional release of the season, the veteran having been let out by Seattle about a month ago.

BET DEMPSEY CAN'T KNOCK OUT LOMSKI

RENO, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Even money was posted today in Reno gambling halls that Jack Dempsey would be unable to knock out Leo Lomski, the "Aberdeen Assassin," in a four-round fight here Labor Day. Local fans believe Lomski is by far the best fighter Dempsey has met since his barnstorming tour began.

Grove Is Mack 'Boogie Man'

GREAT PITCHER GIVES A'S BIG EDGE IN SERIES

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Throw out the Grove man and there is little to choose between the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals, the teams that will meet in the 1931 world series.

The club batting average of the Athletics is .289, just four points better than the collective thumping mark of the Cardinals. You can forget that, however, for the National League ball is much deader than the sphere used in the American league.

There is even less difference in club fielding, where the A's have a percentage of .976 as against .974 for the boys from St. Louis. The Cards, however, have had more opportunities to miscue than the champions, having accepted 4800 chances to some 4400 for the Athletics.

Five 300 Hitters
Both clubs possess five 300 or better hitters.

Simmons with a mark of .365, tops the Philadelphia sluggers. Cochrane, Haas, Bishop and Cramer are the other A's hitting above what used to be the charmed circle. Bottomley heads the St. Louis parade with an average of .338. Hafey, Roettger, Frisch and Collins are the other 300 thumpers.

The Athletics have blasted an even 100 homers, while the Cards have accounted for but 52. The Cards, however, have made the most hits of all sorts, 280 to 262, and have pounded 62 doubles, 10 more than the A's.

Cards Faster on Bases
The National Leaguers have it all over the champions in the matter of base stealing, having pilfered 58 bases to 19 for the slow-footed Mackmen. It should be remembered, however, that Mickey Cochrane will be behind the plate for the A's, and stealing bases against Mister Cochrane is something else again.

In the pitching end of the business Grove stands out like a huckleberry in a bowl of cream. The mighty southpaw has won 25 games and is reporting throughout the morning and afternoon at Andrews gymnasium where they were being greeted by Coach "Tex" Oliver.

Players were being fitted to uniforms and issued all of the other necessary paraphernalia.

Practice will begin in dead earnest tomorrow, the first day possible under Coast Preparatory league rules.

Oliver and his assistant, Coach Bill Foote, will have charge of the workouts which at first will be conducted twice daily, morning and afternoon.

The Saint skippers expect to size up their material in the next two weeks and gain a definite idea as to who is who even before school opens in two weeks.

TROJAN THIMBLEFULLS

By AL Wesson
When "Head Man Howard" Jones uses his golf score card to mark down 11 little mysterious x's in various formations and has that far-away look when any subject but football is mentioned, it's a cinch that it won't be long now before the first kick-off inaugurates the grid bug's loony season.

Erny Pinckert says that there ought to be prizes for the first fan who yells instructions down to the quarterback, for the first blonde who asks the boy friend why the players hold meetings between plays and for the bug who can guess when the Trojans will miff their first goliath kick.

University of Southern California's quarterbacks are practicing going places this summer by wandering around the country. Orv Mohler has been visiting his parents in Annapolis and will return with them to his home in Alhambra this week. Galus (Gus) Shaver is now taking an automobile trip to Chicago with a friend. Mohler will be back in time to get in another week's work at Catalina piloting a speed boat, but Shaver will not return until the opening of the university, September 14.

Pangle, S. A. Gridder, Off To Corvallis

Harold Pangle, star Santa Ana high school fullback for three years, left today for Oregon State college, where he will enroll as a freshman late this week.

He was accompanied north by Reg Rumm and Ed Adams, former Santa Ana junior college football players who begin their second season on the O. S. C. squad this year; Marsh Dunkin of Tustin, one of the best hurdlers on the Pacific coast, who is now a junior for at the Corvallis college, and Ken Chesley, former Pullerton jaycee center, an all-conference selection two years ago.

Pangle, a 180-pounder of three years' experience in prep football, is regarded as one of the finest collegiate prospects to graduate here in recent years. For three seasons a regular on Saint teams, he was eclipsed only by the dashing Al Reboin, for whom Pangle ran interference. Reboin recently was accepted at the University of Southern California.

DOVE HUNTING SEASON OPENS ON TOMORROW

California's dove season begins tomorrow, remaining open until October 31.

Sportsmen are advised that the best hunting will be found in the San Diego and Lake Elsinore districts, and are warned that Orange county is virtually a closed area.

State and federal laws are contradictory as to when the season opens officially.

The state law, the one enforced by California game wardens, says shooting is permissible from sunrise to sunset. The federal statute declares the season does not open until noon tomorrow.

A hunter may shoot 15 doves daily but not more than 30 in a single week.

Experienced hunters predict that doves will be more plentiful in Southern California in a week or 10 days. There is a scarcity of the birds in these parts but doves are plentiful in Northern California. They are migratory and will begin flying south as soon as the shooting begins, sportsmen believe.

J. A. Scherman, state forest ranger in Orange county, today urged the co-operation of hunters in combating forest fires. Smoking in hazardous country is particularly dangerous, Scherman declared, in calling attention to the continued dry weather of the summer which makes devastating fires possible almost anywhere.

WESTLAND TOPS QUALIFIERS AT U. S. AMATEUR

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, Chicago, Aug. 31.—(UP)—With more than half the field of 135 players in, Jack Westland, slim Chicago golfer, held the lead in the National Amateur golf championship today at the end of 18 holes of the two-day 36-hole qualifying round.

A spectacular 23, three under par on his first nine, enabled Westland to shoot a 72, one over par. He had five birdies and on six greens took only one putt.

Favorites and champions found the course baffling. Harrison (Jimmy) Johnston, Minneapolis, 1929 champion and T. Philip Perkins, former British champion, were among those who became uncertain qualifiers. Each had an 82, 11 over par and will have to stage comebacks tomorrow in order to qualify for match play starting Wednesday.

Johnston was out in 39 but his game went to pieces after scoring a birdie 4 on the 590 yard 12th and he lost seven strokes to par on the next five holes.

Cyril Tolley, of Rye, England, British amateur champion, virtually eliminated himself from a chance to qualify by taking a 59-46-55.

Dr. Oscar F. Williams, Portland, Ore., runner-up to Johnston in 1929 and George Voigt, New York, had a chance to finish up among the leaders when they played their first nine holes in 38 each. Voigt sank a 35 foot putt on the ninth green for a birdie 3.

Frank Dolp, Portland, Ore., turned a 75, the second lowest score of the early finishers. He shot a 38 going out and a 37 coming back. He had birdies on the fourth, seventh and thirteenth holes but went over par on six holes, came in with a 38-26-74.

Seaver had one birdie, a two on the 187 yard sixth. He was over par on four holes but played his last eight holes in exactly par.

Bobby Jones followed Johnston and Perkins around during part of their match and then picked up Johnny Goodman, Omaha, Neb., and "Chick" Evans, Chicago. Jones reported that he shot a 67 at Detroit yesterday.

SCHAAF, CAMPOLO IN MATCH TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(UP)—Ernie SchAAF, Jack Sharkey's discarded protegee, and Victorio Campolo of Argentina were prepared to make a second effort to stage their scheduled 12-round bout at Ebbe's field, Brooklyn, tonight.

The bout was originally scheduled for last Wednesday but was postponed because of rain—as was every outdoor show scheduled in the Metropolitan area last week.

The fight will mean elimination of the local from consideration as a heavyweight championship prospect. SchAAF is a slight favorite to win because of his superior boxing skill and his string of seven consecutive knockouts.

ABBOTT REENGAGED AS PORTLAND PILOT

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31.—(UP)—Spencer Abbott has been signed as manager of the Portland baseball team of the Pacific Coast league for another year, Thomas L. Turner of the Beavers, announced today. Abbott took charge of the Beavers when they looked like a second division club and has them at the top of the heap. Portland finished the first half of the split season in second place under his leadership. Abbott has proved popular with the players and fans alike and his retention will be met with general approval.

SEATTLE FANS RIOT AS SERAPHS STALL

SEATTLE, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Members of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league were en route home today following a narrow escape from a maddened mob of 10,000 fans who attacked the team here when they became enraged because the Los Angeles players were stalling.

The game was awarded Seattle by Umpire Casey. As the Angels started for the clubhouse, the fans swarmed down on the field and began the attack, but were dispersed when a fire company and police squads answered the riot call.

BACK TO MAJORS

Art Shires, once the bad boy of the big leagues, is coming back to the majors as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, according to baseball gossip. Shires has enjoyed a big year at Milwaukee.

SCHACHT TELLS OF HIS EARLY BALL CLOWNING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—American league baseball fans are familiar with antics of Altrouk and Schacht, the Washington clowns, but old-time International league fans recall the latter as a great pitcher in his day.

Even back in the days just after the war, when he was pitching for the Reading, Pa., club, Schacht divided his time between pitching winning baseball and clowning.

One day he hired a horse and rode into the pitcher's box in majestic style. The fans were in an uproar when he climbed down off the steed, but he wasn't kidding when he pitched his team to victory.

Pitches 10-cent Ball
Another time Schacht went into a game as a relief pitcher with his team a dozen or so runs behind. He had bought a 10 cent rocket baseball that morning and had been clowning with it before the game.

"As I took my place on the mound," Schacht said in recalling the incident, "I reached for a chew of tobacco in my hip pocket and felt the ball. I thought now'd be a good chance to slip over a fast one, so I put the regulation ball in my shirt and pitched the 10 cent rocket instead. I called the catch out and told him my plan."

"I'll just throw fast balls waist high and let 'em pop up," I told the catcher.

"The first two batters popped up to the shortstop and everything was fine. Then came a hitter I hadn't much luck against and I wanted to strike him out."

What Happened
"I yelled, 'You might as well leave your bat in the dugout, you big mug.' I'm just giving you three whiffs."

"He hit the first one all his might and knocked it a mile high to the third baseman and it came down in a crazy descent. As soon as the third baseman made the catch I called for the ball, but so did the batter. He was yelling to the ump, 'There's something wrong with the ball.' I got the ball back all right, but couldn't get the regulation ball out of my shirt. I then confessed I had pitched the 10 cent rocket to the last batter, but said I had used the good ball to the first two, so all they could do was make me pitch to one more batter with the league ball."

Class B awards went to Harold Harrison and H. G. Gardner. Harrison was even in match play. J. R. Huber, Bob Fernandez and Dr. H. M. Spears, all one down, tied for second. Gardner had a card of 89-22-67. Behind him were Dr. V. A. Rossiter, 88-20-68, and Walter Vandermast, 89-18-71.

The game was awarded Seattle by Umpire Casey. As the Angels started for the clubhouse, the fans swarmed down on the field and began the attack, but were dispersed when a fire company and police squads answered the riot call.

FOOTE, MATEER WIN GOLF SWEEPSTAKES

W. W. (Bill) Foote and E. T. Mateer finished first in Class A golf sweepstakes at the Santa Ana Country club over the week end.

Foote was five down in match play, B. R. Manjer, second, was one down and A. W. Robinson, third, three down.

Mateer shot 85-14-71 in medal play. Second was C. R. Furr, 88-14-74.

Class B awards went to Harold Harrison and H. G. Gardner. Harrison was even in match play. J. R. Huber, Bob Fernandez and Dr. H. M. Spears, all one down, tied for second. Gardner had a card of 89-22-67. Behind him were Dr. V. A. Rossiter, 88-20-68, and Walter Vandermast, 89-18-71.

PAGE TO PITCH 'CHICO' IN BID FOR LAST WIN

Anaheim will try desperately for the "kill" tonight.

With "Chico" Sabella pitching and Orville Schuchardt back in center field, Manager George Pace holds high hopes of beating Santa Ana's scrappy Stars for the fourth and final time, and thereby clinch the National Night league championship.

This is the crucial contest, as far as Anaheim is concerned.

The Valentinos will be on their home grounds, in front of a friendly crowd, and will have their lineup up 100 per cent physically efficient.

They will have their expensive moundman, defeated but once this season, on the firing line.

Everything favors them.

But if they lose, they may be gone goons. The series then would be 3-and-2, and a "money team" like the Stars would be favored in any one-game playoff.

Joe Cornelius will make his sixth successive start for the Stars.

Cornelius Stars For Stars

The big boy has certainly been an "iron man" in this playoff. He has turned in five beautiful games already and, if he succeeds in winning the series now, Santa Ana fans will be in favor of giving him the courthouse or some other suitable token of appreciation.

Cornelius has had some dazzling support, too. The Stars are leveling with everything they have, and if their hitting continues to be as good in the pinches as it was last Friday, may pull the championship out of the fire yet. Certainly their defensive work has been manifestly finer than the "A's" aggregation in every game but one.

Santa Ana will almost be at full strength tonight, too.

"Eeny" Wilcox, the Stars' regular catcher, is out of the lineup, of course, but "Memphis" Hill will be used in the backfield and Hill's budgeon has always been effective against Sabella.

Hill May Play Second
Manager George Lackey may start Hill at second base, leaving Leavitt Daley at shortstop where he can get the most from Daley's speed and strong throwing arm. Otherwise, Daley will go to second base and Hill back to shortstop, a combination that worked effectively together last year and most of this season.

Bill Cole will be at first base and Darwin Scott third, with Ed Daley, the great utility man and one of the heroes of the series, catching Cornelius as usual.

The same outfield that helped Cornelius turn back the Valentinos here Friday will be employed again. Joe Mene will be in left field, Wayne Nelson in center and "Rosy" Merrill in right.

Valentinos Confident
Anahelm's hopes are high with Sabella scheduled to hurl and Schuchardt, who is nursing a broken toe, returning to center field. There is no doubt that Sabella is a better chucker than "Fuzzy" Errington and none can question the ability of Schuchardt. Without their peerless flyhawk, Anaheim was quite badly outclassed by the Santa Ana outfield Friday. Rice and Maness being out of position for several drives that fell safely in their midst. In justice to Rice, it must be stated that he has never played center field this season so the post was unfamiliar to him.

The "Little World Series" will be completed and Anaheim will prepare to begin its playoff with Colton at Colton, Wednesday. But if Santa Ana breaks through again, a seventh game will be necessary and the rival managers will flip a coin after the game to determine where it is played. The Colton series thus would not begin until Friday.

SONG SERVICE IS CONDUCTED IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Aug. 31.—At the Friends church Sunday evening a beautiful service of song was held under the direction of the Rev. Joseph G. Reece, who closed his pastorate of four years at the evening service. The Rev. Mr. Reece and family are moving to Yorba Linda, where they will take up new duties in the Friends church there.

At the beginning of the service, community singing was enjoyed, with Mrs. Fred Mahoney at the piano. The pastor then gave a short address.

"The Scriptures have several things to say along the line of music. I do not know what the church service would be without music and yet, in many schools they pick on music as the subject to omit, when the schedules are too full. We find in the Bible records the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, cymbals, trumpets of various types, and viola.

"In 1 Chronicles 15, David instructed the chief of the Levites to 'appoint their brethren to be the singers, by lifting up the voice with joy.' Then in the same chapter, we find that Chenaniah was master of song. All these were under the hands of the fathers and the number of them was even two hundred and four score and eight. It speaks in 2 Chronicles about the militant choir and we find all through the Bible references to music. When you feel happy, you sing. And last night I heard a couple of men singing as they passed my home about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. They couldn't walk straight. The Quakers did not use to have music of any kind in their service. They thought the devil was in the violin and in the piano. When I was traveling in a quartet, we attended the services at an old Quaker church in the east. We asked them if we might sing for them, but they said they never had music of any kind at their services. But after the meeting had adjourned we were allowed to sing. The meeting was adjourned by the man who seemed to be in charge, turning and shaking hands with his nearest neighbor, and after that meeting was adjourned, they seemed to enjoy our singing, but they did not allow music when the meeting was going on.

"All through the Bible, the Israelites had songs of victory. The life of the people was shown forth in their songs. I am very grateful to those who have helped to work out this program of songs, which fit together."

The Rev. Mr. Reece rendered several solos, for which he had received special requests, "The Pierced Prince," "The Prince of Glory," "Prayed Alone," "The Blood-Bought Souls," "The Stranger of Galilee," Miss Elizabeth Stiles sang "The Old Crimson Cross." A quartet, Miss Skiles, Mrs. Reece, Kenyon Moody and Mr. Reece sang "The Unveiled Christ." The Rev. Mr. Reece then sang "My Ain Country," then Miss Skiles and Mrs. Reece sang "No Disappointment in Heaven," as a duet. The quartet sang "There is a Place of Quiet Rest" and Mr. and Mrs. Reece sang "Have You Reached the Abiding Place in Jesus?" The pastor said: "I wish to thank Mrs. Mary Marshburn, who so ably assisted at the piano and also to tell you all good-bye. No matter what the test, He will carry you through—let that be the message. Mrs. Reece made the closing prayer.

L. A. Man Hurt In Surf At Laguna

An eight-inch scalp wound which required 14 stitches to close was suffered by J. R. Barry, 35, of Los Angeles, when he was struck by a skiff in the Laguna Beach surf Sunday afternoon. The boy disappeared after the accident. Barry was given first aid treatment and then taken to the Laguna Beach hospital.

'CHRISTIANS' SUNDAY TOPIC OF REV. MINCK

ORANGE, Aug. 31.—"Can Any Group Rightly Claim to be the Only Christians?" was the subject of the Sunday morning sermon by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck at the Christian church. The choir sang, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me" by Adams. The gospel quartet sang "God's Way." Members of the quartet were Floyd Owings, Mrs. Leon Des Larzes, Mrs. Arthur Fullerton and G. W. Wells. Announcement was made of the postponement of the John Brown evangelistic meetings until September 20.

The mobilization month of the Christian church was announced. Labor Sunday will be observed with an appropriate service in both Sunday school and church.

Promotion Sunday will be observed September 20 with promotional exercises in each of the Sunday school departments the first half hour. The last half hour will be in the form of a reception in each of the departments for the pupils who have been promoted. The church hour will consist of a baccalaureate service for all of the grades and they will at that time be presented with their diplomas. The graduates will be seated in a reserved section and the pastor will bring a brief baccalaureate sermon.

September 20, Home Coming day, will be the day when former pastors and members of the congregation who have moved out of town, will be guests. There will be a pot luck dinner at Irvine park following the morning church service. Each person will bring own table service. Rally day will be September 27.

Each Sunday, every class and department will have an attendance goal which will be two or three more than the number present the preceding Sunday.

The pastors formerly in the Orange charge who will be invited to the Home Coming day are T. B. Knowles, 2017 Goodman street, Cleveland; E. W. Trimble, 92 High street, Mt. Sterling, Ky.; A. B. Herring, Lake Park, Ga.; W. G. Oran, 307 West Masonic street, Gainesville, Fla.; Harry J. Hill, 624 North Gaudalup street, Redondo Beach; D. S. McDonald, First Christian church, Alliance, Neb.; J. W. Utter, 835 East Fourth street, Ontario; P. L. Hale, 313 Park avenue, Lexington, Ky.; N. B. McGhee, 2501 Second avenue, Los Angeles; A. N. Glover, 419 South Marbrisa avenue, Huntington Beach; C. C. Bentley, 512 Washington street, Orange; W. E. Spicer, 6206 South King street, Bell.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "In Mark 9:38 to 40, Jesus gave His disciples a lesson in charity. They had rebuked a man outside of their group. Was it right? They forbade him because he did not follow us. Either you are against or for the Christ. His disciples asked Jesus if they had done right. He tolerant, said Jesus. There should be unity between the members of different denominations.

He that is not against us is for us. Forbid him not for he that is not against us is for us. There are Christians in other brotherhoods. There is only one church, the church of the living God, the body of Jesus Christ, the church of Jesus Christ."

GIVE SERVICE. REV. PEARSON URGES IN TALK

ORANGE, Aug. 31.—Morning worship at the First Presbyterian church included an anthem by the choir, "Seek Ye the Lord." The solo was rendered by Mrs. Carl Plaster. The morning sermon was delivered by the Rev. Marcus L. Pearson, ex-pastor of the local organization, who has been a member of the Orange church for more than 13 years.

The Rev. Mr. Pearson read from Matt. 20, beginning with the 17th verse, and had as a central thought of his discourse, Service.

The speaker said in part: "The greatest word of our English language is service and the most needed activity of the whole wide world is service. The greatest service the world has known was freely given by the man of Galilee.

"The great crying need of the present uneasy world that is on the verge of calamity, with its 7,000,000 heads of families out of work in the coming winter season, is only a battle between selfishness and service to others. Selfishness is the mother of evil in the world. And we must face the present upheaval, resulting from the same cause and which will end

In the same way, unless we bring relief in service and obedience to the divine command, to think of others and keep ourselves unspotted from the world. The spirit of Christian service will solve the world's problem of today.

"An athlete does not become noted just by choosing athletics to be his goal, but by continuous practice and determination to succeed. David did not kill Goliath by using the sling shot the first time. Practice with an achieving desire leads to perfection. Practice in service to others leads us to a greater service. And the greatest among those who serve, was he who becomes servant of all."

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Wilfred Lewis attended a luncheon Thursday in Venice at the home of Mrs. Maude Schneider, who entertained members of the 1930 Worthy High Priestesses' association of the White Shrine in her home.

Mrs. J. O. Pyle and sister, Mrs. John Kettler and niece, Miss Mary Kettler, spent Tuesday in Los Angeles.

Mrs. William Phillips returned from a week's visit in Los Angeles and was accompanied by friends, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. White, who remained as guests in the Phillips' home for several days. A motor trip to Mission Beach was enjoyed one day by Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. White, who visited Mr. and Mrs. White's nephew, city attorney of San Diego, and his wife at their new home.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES FOR MONTH LISTED

ORANGE, Aug. 31.—"Lighthouse Without Keepers" was the subject of the sermon Sunday evening at the union church service held at the Methodist church last evening. On September 6 the Rev. Franklin H. Minck of the Christian church will bring the union church sermon with the Christian church choir giving the music.

On September 13 the Rev. Robert McAulay of the Presbyterian church will preach the union church sermon, with the Methodist and Christian church choirs bringing the music.

The program was as follows: Mrs. Raymond Warren, pianist, prelude, "Maestoso" (MacDowell); anthem, "Art Thou Weary" (Schnecker), by the Methodist choir; offertory, "Romance" (Sibelius); contralto solo, "Leave It With Him" (Ellis), sung by Mae Kimble; male quartet, "Rose of Sharon" (Allen), sung by Harold Giron, Ross Stuckey, Carl Stuckey, Lawrence Hempelhill; postlude, "Allegro" (Mendelssohn).

NEGRO JUBILEE PROGRAM HEADS KREG OFFERING

"A Little of This and That" will be presented over KREG between 10 and 10:30 o'clock tonight by the Negro Jubilee group, who are a group of versatile entertainers who have found high favor with their listeners in the few times they have been heard over the station. It was announced today by studio officials.

Bud and His Buddies will be on the air with another of their daily programs featuring cowboy and ranch melodies, both vocal and instrumental, from 4:15 until 5 p. m. Those Three Girls, whose popularity is ever on the increase, will be heard from 5 until 5:30 p. m. with a studio program of popular records scheduled to follow for a half hour.

Late news items will be broadcast from 6 until 6:15 p. m., with the Shoppers' Guide program to be on the air from 6:15 until 6:45 p. m. The regular farm bureau program will be on the air from 6:45 until 7 p. m. Lynwood Young and Art Cannon will broadcast another of their popular programs from 7 until 7:30, with the Honolulu Playboys to make their appearance from 7:30 until 8 p. m.

Glen Osborne's orchestra will present a program of dance melodies from 8 until 9 p. m. The popular Spanish program, conducted by Senor Guillermo Orozco, will be on the air again tonight from 9 until 10 o'clock. The Modern Trio, which is said to be one of the most popular features of the station, will broadcast a half-hour program from 10:30 until 11 p. m.

The Little Church of the Wildwood goes on the air at 8:30 tomorrow morning for the regular half-hour program, with a half-hour studio program scheduled to follow. Ray and His Harmony Trio will follow with another half-hour program. The Women's Hour, conducted by Millie, will be broadcast from 11 until 11:30 a. m. Art Cannon will present a half-hour of piano numbers from 11:30 until noon. Late news bulletins will be broadcast from noon until 12:30.

YOUNG, CANNON TO PRESENT PROGRAM

Lynwood Young, talented negro vocalist and a student at the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, and Art Cannon, studio pianist for station KREG, will present another one of their popular programs tonight from 7 o'clock until 7:30 p. m.

Young has not announced his program for tonight but has assured studio officials that it will include several of the old favorite negro spirituals and a group of popular and semi-classical numbers. Cannon will also present several piano solos.

For 15 minutes preceding the Young-Cannon program the Farm Bureau will be on the air with their weekly educational feature.

Rhythm Boys to play dance music

Starting at 8 o'clock tonight Glenn Osborne's Rhythm Boys will present a program of dance music for one solid hour. This is a "hot" program and presents a nine-piece orchestra playing in the studio.

Osborne's Rhythm Boys are considered one of the best dance orchestras in Orange county and in their appearances over station KREG have won hundreds of new friends who anxiously await each new program.

The Rhythm Boys are scheduled to follow another program of popular music being presented by the Honolulu Playboys who go on the air from 7:30 until 8 o'clock.

UNIQUE OFFERING BY BUD, BUDDIES

During the last 15 minutes that Bud and his Buddies are on the air over station KREG today their program will be sponsored by the Hain Pure Food company of Los Angeles and the boys will have good news for everyone who is trying to keep the waistline down.

The boys will tell the women of Orange county of a wonderful new method of reducing without the use of drugs, exercises, diet or mechanical means. The method the boys will explain permits a person to eat anything they want without worrying over weight. It is information well worth listening to and Bud and his Buddies have arranged a unique method of presenting the facts in a way that will be interesting whether one cares about gaining weight or not.

POPULAR READER IN RADIO PROGRAM

Lulu Walker, popular Santa Ana reader, is scheduled for another one of her programs over station KREG this afternoon from 4 until 4:15 p. m.

These programs, are out of the ordinary and are increasing in popularity with the audience of the air. Offering as she does a type of entertainment that is different from the general run of readings the Lulu Walker programs have created a considerable following among those people who have a few minutes for relaxation toward the close of the day's activities.

SPIRITUALISM DISCUSSED IN FORD LECTURE

The spirits that appear in the seance room pretending to be those of our dead friends or loved ones are not the spirits of the dead at all," according to Evangelist John E. Ford in his lecture last night at the tabernacle on North Main street. He spoke to a congregation that filled the tabernacle.

Special musical features that were enjoyed by those present were a duet by Dr. Patterson and Howard Blackburn, and a number by the choir under the direction of N. C. Petersen.

"Many have the idea that spiritualism is all trickery and wire pulling, but my friends, it is not all trickery and wire pulling. As expressed by the Scientific American after its exhaustive investigations a few years ago, 'there is enough of the genuine in it so that many of the greatest minds of our day have been led to believe in it.' Sir Conan Doyle said before his death that spiritualism 'would sweep the world.' And it is sweeping the world. Its adherents and followers can be numbered by the millions today and in every land.

"Fifty million people would like to get into communication with their dead loved ones whom they believe are still living in the form of etheral spirits. The criminologist, the scientist, the statesman, lawyer, doctor, business man, the lover and married men and women are bowing at the shrine of the spirit world to try to find out from their dead loved ones or friends the secrets of the present and future.

"Spiritualism is an impossibility to those who really believe in the teaching of the Bible for it is based on the belief of life existing after death. The Bible states, 'For the living know that they shall die; but the dead know not anything;... Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun.... Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.' It certainly cannot be the dead who are operating in Spiritualism, for the dead know not anything and cannot do anything.

"Why should men and women be dabbling in such questionable things when there is a Saviour who knows all we wish to know, and says to us 'Come now and let us reason together.' Isa. 1:18. He is ready and willing to talk over any and every problem with you and will not lie to you nor deceive you and will help you to settle that problem aright. And you can come from the council chamber of the Son of God with a blessing and peace in your heart that spiritualism cannot give."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon, Sunday, in the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Among the Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon were these verses from John, relating to the impotent man at the pool of Bethesda: "When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? ... Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath ... Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "To understand all our Master's sayings as recorded in the New Testament, sayings infinitely important, his followers must grow into that stature of manhood in Christ Jesus which enables them to interpret his spiritual meaning. Then they know how Truth casts out error and heals the sick."

SPIRITUALIST PASTOR TALKS ON LIFE'S LAW

"The Laws of Our Lives" was the subject of the sermon delivered yesterday at the Spiritual Christian Science church by the Rev. Paul Andres, pastor. He said in part: "Spirit creates through law. The law is always mind in action. Mind cannot act unless intelligence sets it in motion. In the great universal mind man is a center of intelligence, and every time he thinks he sets mind into action.

"The ordinary individual thinks of mind only from the limitation of his own environment. The concept he has of mind is the concept of his own thinking, which is very limited. The belief in the dual mind has destroyed practically all philosophies and religions of the ages, and will continue to do so until the world comes to see that there is but One. Whatever name is given it there is but One. It is this One that creates for us, whatever we believe. Our thoughts, operative through this One, produce all our affairs. We are all centers of creative thought activity.

"Nothing exists or can exist without a source from which it springs. We are not dealing with a negative as well as a positive Power—not two powers but one; a power that sees neither good or evil, as we see it. It knows only that it is all, and since it is all, it creates whatever is given it.

"The Master understood this, and in a few simple words laid down the law of life: 'It is done unto all people as they believe.' This is a great thing to keep in mind. It is done unto us; we do not have to do it, for it is done unto us of a power that knows itself to be all there is. We must realize more clearly that this Great Power has to operate through us."

REV. RINGLAND TO BE PASTOR OF U. B. CHURCH

The Rev. T. W. Ringland, of the United Brethren church at Whittier, was assigned to Santa Ana by the conference of churches of that denomination, which closed yesterday in Long Beach. The Rev. R. W. Harlow, former leader of the work in Santa Ana, was elected to the Euclid Avenue church at San Diego. The changes will become effective at once. The Rev. Mr. Harlow closes a pastorate of four years with the Santa Ana church.

Large delegations from the Santa Ana church attended the sessions of the sixty-sixth annual convention. The convocation opened last Wednesday.

Bishop Ira D. Warner, D. D., of Portland, Ore., made the Episcopal address on the topic, "The World's Need and the Gospel to Meet It." He spoke of the present economic conditions in Europe. In referring to Russia, Bishop Warner said that he did not blame Russia for breaking away from the kind of religion that had been imposed upon her for centuries because it was a religion of tyranny.

The attempts to make readjustments to the economic situations in our own country have all been temporary, the Bishop said, and he gave as the cause of the present depression the existing attitude toward God.

He spoke of the crime wave in America, the graft and greed, and cited Israel when she turned away from God to serve idols until God called a halt. He said further that this nation was doing like Israel and that God was beginning to call a halt. The remedy for a readjustment he gave as "Back to the God of the Bible."

Among those at the conference were Dr. O. T. Deever, general secretary of Christian education and young people's work, and Miss Janet Gilbert, secretary of the denomination guild of Dayton, Ohio.

The Rev. T. W. Ringland, conference superintendent, was elected to that office.

Dr. R. H. Briggs, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, made a brief address in which he pointed out that up until the time President Hoover took office, prohibition enforcement was not very effective. He declared that in the last two years, under Hoover's direction, the consumption of alcohol has decreased 65 per cent.

VESPER SERVICE SERMON ANSWERS QUESTION ABOUT WRONGS OF THE WORLD

The Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of The Nazarene, was the speaker at the Union Vesper hour in Birch park yesterday at 5 p. m. He took for his subject "What's Wrong With Us and the World?" using as a text 2 Kings 2:14. "And He took the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and smote the waters and said, Where is the Lord God of Elijah."

"These were the words of prayer, a challenge to a fulfillment of a promise," the Rev. Mr. Harding asserted. "They have become the words of atheists and infidels. Men are saying, 'Where is the God of olden times, of the Bible, the God who answers prayers, the God of revivals?' The trouble is not at God's end of the line. While men are looking for God, God is looking for the man.

"We might read the text, 'Where is God's Elijah?' God is not dead. It's the church that's dead. He is not asleep, the folks are asleep. God has not left His people, the people have left Him. God is the same, yesterday, today and forever."

"The power was not in the old sheep skin, there was no more in that sheep skin, as much as, as the old sheep skin saddle blanket used by the old Methodist circuit rider. We have depended too much on sheep skins. The universities have sowed them down all over the country. God is looking for the man back of the sheep skin.

"When he found the successor to Elijah (Elisha), he found the man with a right choice. Elisha said to him, 'What wilt thou I do for thee before I go away?' He might have asked for place, power or position, but he didn't. He said, 'Give me a double portion of the spirit that rests on thee.'

"A lot of us want religion but it is secondary with us. We would rather be right and powerful. We are afraid of too much religion. We are man in our greed for gold. We are drunk on pleasure. We have got too much of a great many things that are against us. But we are not afraid of them. We are afraid of too much religion.

"We run races in building churches, in homes, buying cars, even flowers at a funeral and tombstones in a cemetery. But we don't race in spiritual things. We seem to be ashamed of it, deny it, hide it, and if we profess it, we claim we haven't got it bad.

"He was a man of a determination. Elijah tried to put him off and get away from him. But he said 'as the Lord liveth, I am going along.' The church problems of today are as great as any day we have even known. We need men with a religious backbone, with a courage of their convictions. I think the reason the lions did not eat Daniel, was because he was all backbone."

TELLS NEED OF PREPARING TO MEET CHRIST

The Rev. C. C. Houston, pastor of the Southside Church of Christ, preached yesterday on the subject, "I Will Tear Down My Barns."

The text was taken from Luke 12:13-21. The speaker said in part:

"The mind of man in his thought is one of the great wonders of the existence of things of this earth. It is the great power that tries to comprehend the existence of the universe, and the origin of everything within it. The mind that reasons about what we are, where did we come from, and whither are we going is bound to take up divergent ways of looking at these problems; and especially so, when it does not hold to the belief of the Bible.

"But the man who considers that in the Bible there is a revelation, and the only one from God, has a basis for a belief as to the future, and also recognizes that he should obey the demands of Him who has revealed His way to the minds of thinking men.

"We seemingly at times want to tear down our barns and drift out into the unknown without chart or compass from the Eternal One. Then faith pulls us back and points out to the great light beyond. We are tempted at times to live for the present, to follow the unrestrained and untaught disposition of humanity and live and use our powers and wealth for the gratification of the fleshly desires.

"There is such a tendency for us to be selfish, that we almost adhere with life and death grip to the wrong conception of the temporal and the transient. Business and financial interests are placed ahead of the interests of our lesson, hoarding, plenty, selfishness, and ease are the dominant factors in the life of many. The Great Teacher has given us the lesson that we must not walk in the footsteps of this rich man. He left God out of his planning. He did not recognize him as a partner.

"This rich man thought he was ready to live and enjoy life; but there was a forgotten and dishonored God, who came with surprise and suddenness while he was unprepared, and snatched him from pleasure and life to face God, where wealth then cannot purchase one moment of ease and happiness. Prepare now to meet your God in peace and happiness through obeying the Gospel of Christ."

CHRIST'S DIETY DISCUSSED BY REV. C. M. AKER

The Rev. C. M. Aker, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, preached the sermon at the union evening services held last night at the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which the Rev. George A. Warner is pastor. The Rev. Mr. Aker's sermon offered to the congregation proofs of the diety of Christ.

Community singing by the large audience present was led by James Nuckolls.

The pastor told the story of the blind man whose eyes Christ anointed with clay and whom he told to bathe in the pool of Siloam. He recalled how the Pharisees made considerable trouble after this event.

John 9:35-36 formed the text for the sermon. The blind man was asked by Jesus,

"Dost thou believe I am the Son of God?" He replied, "Who is He that I may believe on Him?" Jesus said, "Thou hast seen Him and He it is that speaketh with thee."

Leaves that if every church will make arrangements now to be prepared to meet the issue much suffering can be avoided. The church further believes in prayer with action, for God helps those who help themselves."

Church Planning Relief Program

The Christian Spiritual Science church of Santa Ana has started a commissary, preparing for the time when calls will be made upon it for aid. It was learned today. The church will make it a point to help its own people who adhere to the organization, according to the Rev. Paul Andres, pastor. The pastor said the church does not intend to aid others unless special cases are brought to its attention.

"The church believes it is its duty to take care of its own people, for it is written that he that does not take care of his own household is worse than an infidel," said the Rev. Mr. Andres. "It further be-

2000 COUNTY CATHOLICS TO ATTEND MASS

Two thousand Orange county residents are expected to attend the pontifical mass at the Olympic stadium, Los Angeles, on September 6 at noon, it was learned from leaders in the Catholic church.

The mass will be a celebration by the church of the founding of Los Angeles, on September 4, 1781. It is expected that the mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Fumasoni-Biondi, Apostolic delegate to the United States. The sermon will be preached by the Archbishop of San Francisco. There will be large gatherings of archbishops and bishops of the United States.

In order that the priests and people may have an opportunity to attend these services, Bishop John J. Cantwell, of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, has ordered that on this day no mass be celebrated in any parish church in Los Angeles county later than 10 a. m.

Sears' ALLSTATE has as Many Plies .. As Any Other First Quality Tire

8,000,000 motorists—the tire industry's largest independent testing laboratory—the research department of a great university—all tell us ALLSTATE is one of the world's best tires. Best, because it's made best. Designed by leading tire engineers. Manufactured by America's foremost tire maker.

Plies—the foundation of the tire—are full plies in ALLSTATE. They are made of "super-elastic" fabric, and they extend uniformly from bead to bead. In addition, ALLSTATE has a breaker strip under the tread, to help absorb and distribute road shocks. This breaker strip is double-woven—the best type the tire industry has developed.

Check the 12 points in the impartial laboratory* test on the right. See for yourself the facts about plies by looking at actual cross sections in any Sears store. Then, the next time you buy tires, learn about tire value by buying ALLSTATE.

Veteran Business Man Honored on Birthday Anniversary

The return of the birthday anniversary of Asa Vandermast, one of the city's veteran business men, was made a very happy event on Thursday, August 27, when Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast were commemorated at a dinner party planned by their children.

Meeting in the pretty big Vandermast home at 425 South Birch street, the various members of the family circle took an early departure for Balboa, where arrangements had been made for the birthday dinner enjoyed in Balboa Inn. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vandermast and son, Newell, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Prince and son Kenneth, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Vandermast.

There was nothing lacking to make it a joyous occasion, with flowers to add their cheerful note to the table decorations, and an array of birthday gifts for the honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandermast and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Vandermast left yesterday morning for a pleasant outing at Lake Arrowhead.

Maywood Young People Wedded in Home of Orange Pastor

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Saturday night when Miss Lucy Bewley and Lee M. Barber, both of Maywood, took their marriage vows in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Sheerer, 418 South Grand street, Orange. The Rev. Sheerer is the pastor of the Orange Baptist church.

Lohengrin's wedding march was played for the entry of members of the bridal party, who took their places before an improvised altar banked with flowers and greenery. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Mr. Sheerer.

The bride was attractively gowned in shell pink satin, fashioned on formal lines and with its graceful skirt touching the floor. She carried a cluster of pink roses, breath of heaven and delphiniums. Miss Muriel Howard, maid of honor, wore pale green chiffon. Gordon Staderbauer was Mr. Barber's best man.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which the newly wedded couple left for an extended honeymoon trip in the High Sierras. They will make their home in Maywood upon returning.

Guests included Mrs. Alice Ponder, Mrs. Ethel Ponder, Miss Ruth Bewley, John Bewley, Miss Muriel Howard, Gordon Staderbauer and Mrs. Louis Arlen, who played the wedding music.

Approaching Wedding Is Incentive for Two Parties

As Saturday, September 5 is the date which Miss Evelyn Hofer and Harold Bushman have chosen for their wedding, two parties were given this past week honoring the approaching event, with Mrs. Charles Pannier as hostess at the first affair and Miss Joanna Day at the second.

Miss Hofer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hofer, 2218 Grand avenue, while Mr. Bushman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bushman of Villa Park.

Shower in Anaheim. When Mrs. Charles Pannier entertained, she was hostess in her home, 524 South Illinois street in Anaheim. Following a series of interesting games, guests were asked to write their favorite recipes for the bride-to-be. Miss Dorothy Lutz received the prize for listing the most recipes, while Mrs. Florence Juenke was given an award for writing the most original ones.

A merry session followed when Miss Hofer was asked to "take a shower." On pulling the cord of the shower curtain arranged in one corner of the room, she found the floor heaped high with gifts from her assembled friends. The packages proved to contain a variety of pretty bathroom accessories.

The clever motif of the party was carried out during the refreshment course, when soap containers and tiny bathtubs served as suitcases. Mrs. Pannier's sister, Miss Mildred Stutholt, and their mother, Mrs. Victor Stutholt, of Orange, assisted in serving.

Those present, other than the honorees, Miss Hofer, were the Misses Dorothy Lutz, Ruth Brubaker, Laura Mallin, Grace Hofer, Mildred Stutholt, Mrs. Florence Juenke and Mrs. Victor Stutholt, and the hostess, Mrs. Pannier.

Miss Day Entertains. Members of a Sunday school class of the First Evangelical church in this city were guests at the party with which Miss Joanna Day complimented Miss Hofer, entertaining in her home on North Cleveland street in Orange.

Hearts appropriately were chosen the game of the evening, resulting in Miss Hazel Leonard's scoring high and Miss Dorothy Lutz, low. Each received an attractive award. During the play, candied hearts were served, and were so arranged to form the initial of Miss Hofer's first name, "E."

During the refreshment interval which followed, Mrs. G. W. Day assisted her daughter in serving.

Guests present to honor Miss Hofer were Miss Grace Hofer, Mrs. Florence Juenke, Miss Emma Juenke, Miss Dorothy Lutz, Miss Ruth Brubaker, Miss Ruth Caldwell, Miss Grace Ellen Lee, Miss Hazel Leonard, Miss Katherine Truempy, Miss Felma Witt, Mrs. Albert Kuehn, Miss Mildred Stutholt, Miss Laura Mallin, and the hostess, Miss Day and her mother, Mrs. Day.

Birthdays Celebrated At Joint Affair in Long Beach

For the past eight years Mrs. John J. Vernon of this city and Mrs. J. B. Nelson of Long Beach have celebrated their birthdays together and this year's observance was held in Long Beach last evening, with Dr. and Mrs. Nelson as hosts in their home on Atlantic avenue.

The hostess chose a modernistic motif in black and white for her table appointments, centering the table with a large bowl of skinkas. Long black vases served a double purpose, for they were place-cards to which bits of delicately wrapped candy were tied. Out crystal in black and white completed the chosen theme.

With the dessert course, ice cream cake was served, and at this time Mrs. Vernon presented the hostess with a lovely angel-food cake. Presentation of gifts followed, and included an Italian cut-work luncheon set which the hosts gave Mrs. Nelson, and a pottery flower bowl which the honored guest gave Mrs. Nelson.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Vernon and their daughter, Betty Louise, the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Nelson and Miss Betty McNeil, Miss Margaret Plig, William Harkon, and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Pico, of Los Vegas.

Petty Officer in Navy Wins Charming Bride In Santa Ana

Among the many interesting weddings occurring as August draws to a close, none was lovelier than that of Miss Martha Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Manning, 428 South Ross street, and Elmer Parker, a petty officer on the Lexington, airplane carrier of the U. S. Navy, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Parker of New Jersey.

The ceremony, which took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, attracted over 200 close friends to the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church, South, where the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Aker, read the impressive service. Loving hands had decked the church with blossoms and greenery, and the altar rails were banked with ferns and graceful sprays of foliage amidst which great clusters of snowy oleanders were massed.

Miss Anna Baxter was at the organ, playing "Love's Old Sweet Song" and similar appropriate melodies as a prelude to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus when the wedding party proceeded to the chancel railing.

Miss Manning, entering on the arm of her father, was charmingly gowned in palest gray, chiffon through which the foundation slip of shell pink satin, gleamed in pearly tones. A graceful picture hat of lace in the same eggshell tints as her gloves and slippers, and her formal bouquet of bride roses were other attractive details of the becoming costume.

Miss Ethel Manning attended her sister as honor maid, and wore a girlish little frock of pale pink orandy over satin, with picture hat and other dress accessories in eggshell tints. The orchid tones of her bouquet of sweet peas, gave a pretty touch of contrast to her costume. Percy Parker of Long Beach served his brother as best man.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. Mr. Aker to the soft accompaniment of "I Love You Truly," played by Miss Baxter. After the young people had taken their vows, they turned to receive the good wishes of their friends before speeding away on their honeymoon.

Through the friendly offices of some of the guests, Mr. Parker's automobile had been secreted in Orange, and then the newly wedded pair escaped the attentions of their friends, and started north on a trip that will continue for six weeks and take them to various interesting cities and some of the national parks. The bride traveled in a smart little suit of one of the new mesh wools in rose tones, with dress accessories to match.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Long Beach to be near Mr. Parker's activities as a petty officer on the Lexington. He has been with the navy for the past eight years, and expects to serve an equal number of years longer before retiring.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Have Returned From Honeymoon Travels

Returning from their honeymoon spent in various interesting northern points including Victoria, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wheeler are being welcomed by a host of friends extending good wishes and congratulations upon their marriage, an event of Saturday, August 1.

Mrs. Wheeler was Mrs. Freda McFadden, and her marriage to the well-known citrus grower, took place in the beautiful little Episcopal church of Carmel-by-the-Sea, in the presence of immediate members of her family. The pastor of the church, the Rev. A. B. Chinn, read the service.

In leaving Santa Ana, Mr. Wheeler and his bride-to-be were accompanied by the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Peacock of Marshfield, Ore. After deciding upon the little coast city of Carmel, world-famous as an art center and beauty spot, as the scene of their marriage, they were joined by Mrs. McFadden's young son, Jack McFadden, who came from Citizens' Training camp at Del Monte, and her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. J. Marion Read of San Francisco who completed the little group of guests at the quiet nuptial service.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler's plans regarding their future home, remain more or less indefinite and their friends are wondering as to whether they will travel for a few months, or will at once establish their home here in the city.

You and your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Griffin of San Pedro are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wool, 701 South Birch street.

Rodney Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Gould, 2412 Riverside drive, sailed from Honolulu late last week on the City of Los Angeles, and will arrive in San Pedro next Friday, leaving at once on the "Cruise to Nowhere" over the Labor Day holiday.

Miss Elizabeth Stephenson of Descanso, is here as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund West, 223 South Garvey street.

Earl T. Rowland and Walter L. Ferris of the Southern Counties Gas company, left Saturday for San Francisco to attend the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Gas association which opened today and will continue until September 5.

Miss Virginia Bishop and Miss Louise Maloney of this city, and Miss Ellen Sweeney of Fullerton, have returned from a vacation visit at the Bishop Boys' camp in the mountains near San Diego, founded and managed by Miss Bishop's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Vern M. Bishop.

Miss Ruth Anne Walker, formerly of this city, but now of Los Angeles, was a guest over the week-end of Miss Ellen Sweeney, and called on many old friends in Santa Ana.

Mrs. E. P. Cornell and son, Henry, 818 Hickory street, returned last night from Wells, Nev., where they spent the past month visiting with Mr. Cornell, who is employed in that city. Mr. Cornell accompanied his wife and son as far as Salt Lake City upon their return.

The Rev. and Mrs. Perry F. Schrock and Miss Mary Schrock, expected to return home tomorrow from Big Bear where they have been spending the past month.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Harwood, 2467 Riverside drive, left yesterday for the east. Dr. Harwood will go to the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., for some special studies and Mrs. Harwood will visit with friends in Chicago, Ill. They will be gone for about three weeks.

Miss June Goodwin, who has just completed a summer course at the University of Mexico in Mexico City, is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Goodwin, 606 East Santa Clara avenue. In a short time she will go to Blythe where she will resume teaching Spanish.

Fifty-Fifty Club Has Dance-Breakfast in Laguna Beach

Romance was indeed the theme of the dancing party and breakfast given by the Fifty-Fifty club Saturday night in Travalglin's Laguna Beach cafe, for recently wedded members of this popular organization of the Southland were complimented guests, together with a group whose birthday anniversaries occurred during the late summer months. The romantic note was uppermost in the dancing, for the moonlight patio was a charming spot, indeed, while the modernistic black and silver of the dining room, clever favors and a most delightful informality increased the enjoyment of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Warner of Laguna Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson of San Clemente and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell of Fullerton were the newly-wedded couples so complimented, while birthday honor guests included Mrs. Harvey Lytel, Mrs. Fred May, Mrs. Edmund Linsendard, Miss Beth Westcott, Miss Marjorie Hanson and Messrs. Earl Crockett, Edward Hunting, Lloyd Hanson, Al Fernandez and A. Scherck.

The hospital committee included Fred May of this city as chairman; B. McCoy, Fullerton; Robert Hanson and Tony Travalglin, San Clemente; Allan Rains and Fritz Kahen, Anaheim; Earl Crockett, Pasadena; Hal Warner, Laguna Beach; James Utt Jr. and Henry Walker, Santa Ana.

Dancing continued until past midnight, after which the guests assembled in the dining room, whose black and silver appointments were repeated in the decorative features of the tables. Silver Tarleton covered the tables and ebon glass was combined with clear crystal in the service used. Travers Huetson of San Clemente, as toastmaster, proposed a series of clever toasts to the various brides and grooms.

The party also celebrated the completion of organizing the Fifty-Fifty club on a permanent basis, now that the membership list is filled. The club was founded by Al Fernandez almost a year ago and has held monthly parties in the succeeding interval at the call of its founder. Future affairs are to be for members only, with the exception of an occasional party to which special guests will be invited.

In October the first anniversary will be observed with a dinner dance in the Ambassador Grove, the exact date to be announced later. Sharing Saturday night's festivity were Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Walker, Lyle Anderson, Fred May, Elvin Webb, Francis Selway, Frank Briggs, Dee Cook, Jack Melton, Ted Roper, James Utt Jr., Charles Givens, Roy Wounn, Leland Finley, Henry Williams, Frank Andrews, Ira Chandler, Tom Law, Misses Lee Fernandez, Terry Haugh, Dorothy Chapman, Joan Gaylord, Gloria Gaylord, Ann Tarver, Thelma Patton, Geneva Tyler, Eleanor Ralston, Beth Westcott, Lucy Holmes, Virginia Berry, Midge Kinsey, Lucille Baker, Evelyn Dyson, Messrs. Berkeley Visitors Are Honored Guests at Park Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Albright of Berkeley were honored guests at a delightful picnic luncheon given Saturday afternoon at Recreation park, Long Beach, when Mr. Albright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Albright of this city were hosts. The Harold L. Albrights are visiting in this city, and the occasion marked their fourth wedding anniversary.

Those present to share in the delectable luncheon and social time which followed, other than the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Albright, were Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman, Miss Helen Wiesseman, Mrs. Anna Allen, Miss Minnie McKay, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Theal, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Guthrie, Miss Margaret Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harrows, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lassenby, Mrs. Mayes and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Albright, this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Abell, Mrs. Mary Abell, Miss Alma Louise Abell, Miss Wynne Abell, William R. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Desol and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hayman, Miss Anne Foley, and Arthur D. Gray, Los Angeles; Mrs. Ethel Brignell, Miss Lauren Brignell, George Brignell, Lester Parmenter, Aubrey Parmenter, Carl Parmenter and Mrs. William Venn, Orange.

Santa Anan and Bride Wedded Here

A wedding ceremony of much charm took place yesterday afternoon when Miss Alice Nieb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Nieb of Long Beach, and Howard V. Youel, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Youel of this city, were married. The First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana was the setting for the event, attended by some 250 guests. These included about 75 relatives and intimate friends, members of Calvary Presbyterian church of Long Beach and the Presbyterian church of this city.

At 4 o'clock Miss Ruth Armstrong gave a recital of organ numbers, then played accompaniments for Robert Edmonds of Long Beach, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Miss Armstrong continued with Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bridal party entered, to be met at the altar by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church, Mr. Youel, and his brother, Mearl Youel, who was his best man.

A charming decorative effect had been achieved by Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bear. Many potted ferns and other greenery provided the background for an immense basket of gladioluses in tints of yellow and pink. Quantities of trailing ferns were arranged at the back of the altar and throughout the church.

The bride, entering with her father, was an attractive picture in her gown of eggshell satin, fashioned with long full skirt and tight-fitting sleeves and bodice. Her tulle veil was cap-shaped and ornamented with orange blossoms and tiny pearls. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and white sweet peas, while her only ornament was a lovely strand of pearls.

Miss Ruth Gorwin of Long Beach was maid of honor and wore a charming frock of pink taffeta with which she carried pink sweet peas. As bridesmaid Miss Hazel Keeler, also of Long Beach, wore a pale green frock of taffeta, carrying a bouquet of yellow sweet peas, harmonizing with the touch of yellow on her gown.

The group of ushers included Curtis Youel, another brother of the bridegroom, and Howard and Harvey Bear. A reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Youel, 530 East Seventeenth street, followed. Many baskets of dahlias, marigolds and zinnias in varied tints decked the rooms and many of the flowers were from the gardens of the D. A. Bear home.

Refreshments of angel-food cake and ice cream were served with food punch, and the motif at this time was a delicate one of pink and white. Mrs. Youel was assisted in serving by two of her nieces, the Misses Isabel and Ada Margaret Johnson and Miss Dorothy Johnson.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Youel will spend the next ten days here and in Long Beach preceding their departure for Chicago, Ill., where they will make their home. Mr. Youel is employed there as director of boys' work of the Erie Chapel institute, having held that position for the past two years. He attended the Y. M. C. A. college following his graduation from Santa Ana high school.

Mrs. Youel is a graduate of Polytechnic high school in Long Beach and is well known in that city.

Community Players to Resume Program of Barn Meetings

Among the countless organizations which share with public schools, the excitement of resuming activities in September, one which is especially close to the hearts of so many Santa Ana residents, is the Community Players' association, which draws membership from practically every business, professional, social and fraternal group in the city. While plans for the play program of the association have not yet been perfected by the governing board of the association, the schedule for the monthly informal meetings in The Barn is being worked out under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Wade with Mrs. Roy Beall as vice-chairman.

The first of the season's succession of meetings will be held next Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock, and the opening program promises to be one of general interest with Mrs. John Tessmann, Mrs. Terry Stephenson and Mrs. Marshall Harnois as speakers.

Mrs. Tessmann will open the program with "A Survey of Modern German Drama," to be followed by a review of Franz Molnar's "The Play 'The Thing'" by Mrs. Stephenson. Mrs. Harnois will close the program with talk on "Stage-Craft of Max Reinhardt."

Mrs. Wade will continue the plan which has proven most successful in the several years' history of The Barn and its monthly programs, by asking those attending to bring sandwiches, with the committee to furnish hot coffee. A large attendance is anticipated and the enthusiasm generated that evening will be expected to maintain throughout the winter months. Membership in the association is open to anyone interested in any phase of the dramatic art.

Security Benefit

Members of the Security Benefit association held an interesting meeting this past week in the M. W. A. hall. After a short business session, doors were opened to the group of visitors present.

The program included numbers by Mr. Davis and his "buddies," radio entertainers. Following vocal duets by Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Briggs, refreshments of pie and coffee were served in the dining room.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Aug. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Shorb and family and Mrs. R. Neves, former local residents, are moving the first of the month to Alhambra, from Compton. The Shorbs traded their Midway City property for a court and a residence in Alhambra last week so they are taking possession of the house and Mrs. Shorb is to work in a real estate office near their home.

Mrs. Ray Schuenn, local woman is to attend the American Legion convention in Long Beach as a delegate from the Huntington Beach division.

Mrs. W. H. Taylor was in Los Angeles and Whittier Wednesday. The Rev. Mr. Galloway and son were luncheon guests Thursday of the Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Laird, of Talbert, former Kentucky friends, al park.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor attended the funeral of J. W. Mitchell, pioneer Huntington Beach man held Tuesday at Huntington Beach with interment in Central Memorial park.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Davies entertained three couples in their home Wednesday evening with icecream and cake served at the conclusion of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson of Midway City, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day of Westminster, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Davies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller motored Thursday from Pasadena, where Mr. Miller on Tuesday accompanied friends, Mrs. Miller returning with her husband to spend a few days.

Glorifying White Hair
Ordinarily, I answer questions pertaining to health and beauty aids by personal letter, but because this letter applies to every woman at some time in her life, I am answering it briefly through the column.

"Do you know anything that will darken gray hair? My hair started to turn when I was just a kid, and now that I am 30, it is almost white."

(Signed) "MRS. K. G." I suppose my correspondent has in mind something I can suggest in diet that will return the color to her hair. If I were able to put my finger on the cause and cure of loss of pigmentation, I wouldn't be writing this column. Such knowledge would be absolutely priceless, and so far, no scientist has found it. Of course, there are freak cases where the color returns to grayed and white hair, but why it does is one of nature's secrets.

If artificial means must be resorted to I would advise this lady to go to the very best beauty shop and have them do it for her, but once started, she must keep up the good work.

But why do anything to this unique aid to beauty? For white hair is just that to a young face. Why not dress up to the hair? Brilliant jewel colors are exquisite with this coloring and a distinction incomparable.

She must take extra care with shampooing; a little bluing in the last rinse water will intensify the white and cover up any yellow tinge, and a half-teaspoonful of "waterglass" in this rinse water will keep her hair soft as silk and easy to handle. I envy her beyond words!

TODAY'S RECIPE
DELECTABLE RICE MUFFINS
1 cup boiled rice
2 cups sweet milk
(1 cup for rice)
2 eggs, well beaten
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons melted butter
—Contributed by Mrs. O. F. K.

Cold rice will do nicely for these muffins, for you see, one cup of milk is allowed for the rice. Combine them and break up all lumps with a fork, add the well beaten eggs to the rice, sift the flour with baking powder and salt and quickly mix with the rice, adding the extra cup of milk as you mix. The melted butter is whisked in last of all, the muffin cups filled full, and baked to a delectable brown in a hot oven.

The first secret of good muffins is putting them together as quickly as possible and with not too much careful mixing. The second one is the oven heat; the oven must be pre-heated to 475 degrees, the muffins baked at this heat, a matter of some seven or eight minutes. The heat can then be reduced and the muffins left in the oven between plate-fillings.

There are 1220 calories in this recipe, and a great big half of this total belongs to the energy-makers. Energy added to energy (in the person of butter and jam) makes curves 'n' curves, and sighs and groans that we didn't have sufficient glimp to say "No" to that last crispy brown one.

The recipe will make two panfuls

'AN AMERICAN TRAGEDY' OPENS AT BROADWAY

Five years was not too long to wait for such an epic motion picture as "An American Tragedy!"

Since publication of Theodore Dreiser's epic novel, "An American Tragedy," the screen world has waited for the perfection of the talking picture medium, the only medium in which this tremendously moving drama could properly be presented; waited for the right director to transfer its pulsing drama to the screen; waited for the right players to enact its tense, human characters.

And it did not wait in vain—as was proved last night at the Fox Broadway theater, where "An American Tragedy" directed by Josef von Sternberg, wizard of the cinema, acted by a superb cast headed by Phillips Holmes, Sylvia Sidney and Frances Dee, flashed a new and greater drama on the screen.

Phillips Holmes, in the role of Clyde Griffiths, has the outstanding role of his career. Sylvia Sidney, a remarkable young actress, in the role of Roberta Alden, rockets into first position among screen stars with this one role. And Frances Dee, as Sondra Finchley, springs a new surprise.

The intense story moves with relentless force on the screen, "An American Tragedy," a great book, a great play, has become a greater moving picture.

GEORGE O'BRIEN IN 'HOLY TERROR' HERE

The popularity of George O'Brien, muscular young man of the movies, was proven here last night, when his new show, "The Holy Terror," opened at the Fox West Coast theater, against the opening of "An American Tragedy" at the Fox Broadway theater, and played to just as big a house.

A story of action and romance, "The Holy Terror" is a good picture throughout. It skims along at a rapid pace until the climax and then presents one of the biggest surprises a picture has had here in the past several months.

Sally Eilers plays the girl in the picture, and plays her part remarkably well. She is the proprietor of a book store in a small western town which O'Brien visits, seeking the man who killed his father. He finds the man and the girl too, and matters are settled with both of them in short order.

Rita LaRoy has a smart cracking role that she does justice to and the mystery man in the picture is James Kirkwood, who gives his usual good performance.

BUS LINES PLAN ON FIESTA CROWDS

"As La Fiesta de Los Angeles is proving the biggest celebration of its kind ever held in California, the Motor Transit lines are co-operating in relieving the traffic and parking problems by urging out-of-town visitors to go via Motor Coach," remarked A. M. Thomas, Santa Ana agent for the bus lines, today and further pointed out that the regular low fares could be still further reduced by using the 10-ride commutation book which contains five round-trips to Los Angeles and is good for 30 days from date of purchase.

Agent Thomas also advised using the commutation book for those wanting to participate in the monster celebration a number of days and called attention to the ties aside to pursue a girl who charms him away from the stock market.

STORY BY MAI COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Tinies reached an open spot and Scouty said, "I see a lot of women sitting on the ground. What are they doing there?" "Why, they are eating lunch, my son," replied the Travel Man. "It's funny! It seems it makes them hungrier, out in the open air."

"Let's stroll around and watch a few. I'm sure they won't object to you. Just gaze upon their costumes. My, what funny hats they wear!" And he was right! The hats were straw. The widest brims they ever saw. And on their backs they wore bright shawls that kept off chilly air.

It was a custom in this town for all the folks to just sit down and eat where'er they wanted to. Soon Carpy shouted, "Gee, I think I have a happy hunch. Let's go some place and buy some lunch and then sit down with all the rest. That quite appeals to me."

So to a store they promptly went.

Enough for quite a meal was spent. "Twins wrapped in bags and then the bunch ran right back to the street. They picked a spot right by a pole. The Travel Man said, "Bless my soul, this is a very chummy stunt, with such good food to eat."

Then, after lunch they took a hike. "The open air is what I like," said Coppy, as they strolled along. The Travel Man then cried, "Here comes a little burro, boys. Don't scare him, now, with too much noise. If we all will be quiet, he will walk right by our side."

The burro slowly came along. Said Coppy, "Gee, he must be strong. His back is loaded down with brush. It's heavy, too, no doubt. What is the brush for? Tell us, please." The Travel Man replied, "Don't tease, and I will gladly tell you what the whole affair's about."

RULES

1. In playing golf of the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes, which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard, but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The orders of the letters cannot be changed.

Beauty In Baseball For Girls

By CHARLOTTE C. WEST, M. D.

THE spontaneous enthusiasm manifested by every boy in the American national game has now communicated itself to his sister, and girls have taken to this sport with an ardor undreamed of a few years ago.

Baseball has been introduced in schools and colleges and is one of the favorite indoor sports pursued by women workers in large industrial plants.

A recent magazine article featured the whole family on a picnic playing baseball. While it was meant to show mother's youthful vigor, it also brought out the fact that it is important for girls to know and enjoy baseball. That they do enjoy this vigorous sport is noisily demonstrated by their shrieks of excitement and cheers of delight while abandoning themselves to the game.

"Indoor" baseball—which, despite its name, is usually played outdoors—is of special benefit to those confined to business all day. It is an outlet for pentup emotions and energies; it is a form of exercise which brings into activity all the muscles of the body, but above all it is marvelous training for social and business adaptation.

Throwing a baseball develops muscles of the trunk, waist, chest and arms. . . as this photo of Miss Jackie Mitchell of Chattanooga, Tenn., indicates.

It is commonly said that women expect too much in the business world. That they do not know how to give and take. This is not the fault of the girl, but of her lack of outdoor experience with her fellows during her childhood and early formative years.

GAMES, and especially those requiring teamwork such as baseball, are teaching her to take as well as to give; to play the game, to take a razzing without quitting or sulking. If baseball does nothing else, it develops a degree of sportsmanship in every girl which gives her a more wholesome attitude toward life in general.

Baseball, above all other games, perhaps, teaches teamwork discipline. The boy who owns a bat learns that he cannot take his bat and go home if he isn't good enough to pitch. The girl learns the same lesson.

In short, baseball is full of situations offering training in social adaptation.

Beginners, very young girls and those to whom the game is entirely new, should do preliminary work in throwing, catching, pitching and batting. A novice is apt to lose interest because batting is poorly done, throwing inaccurate, catching and pitching wild. To develop individual skill, it is advisable to enter into target practice pitching.

An American girl cannot throw as well as her brother. It was found experimentally that this was due to difference in practice and strength rather than to any structural differences in the shoulder girdle. Given the same degree of practice with the development of strength, her improvement is amazing.

Now the question may be asked, "What advantage is it to a girl to throw or pitch a ball a long distance?"

Throwing exercises for women are most desirable. The trunk muscles, waist, chest, arms, the weakest part of women, are strengthened. The various attitudes assumed in playing ball tend to develop and strengthen the entire musculature. Every position makes for bodily contours, grace, and co-ordination of movements.

Where Business Wives Get Off

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"If you please, Mr. Gilson, this little purchase of mine is confidential." "All our business is confidential, Mrs. Banks. No one will ever know that you have another bond in your safe deposit box."

"Oh, I understand that. It is my husband. He—well, I just don't tell him quite everything."

Virginia Banks went home. It was a scorching hot day and her fashionable shop, even with its summer linens on couches and chairs, had been stifling. She now entered her cool house, dark and quiet, and went up to her room. She undressed, went into the shower, and a few minutes later was lying on her green satin chaise longue in a pale green negligee.

"This house is nice," she thought, "and to think I built it almost over Sam's dead body. I wish he enjoyed it more."

She was settling herself for a nap when Sam came in. "Well, you're home early."

He kissed her and sat down in one of the green chairs. His face was steaming, the handkerchief with which he wiped it wringing wet. "It's been a hell of a day. I've been—everywhere." He said it with a sort of hopeless finality.

"HOT—yes. But it's nice and cool in the house. Go and get a shower and take off those clothes. The Ackersons are coming for dinner. Put on your whitey-whites tonight, not those striped ones. You need a new pair."

"Can't. Both pairs dirty."

"What! I told Jennie on Monday to send your box to the cleaners. They ought to be back."

"Cleaner didn't send. I owe him a bill. Guess I'm off his list."

"Of all—"

"Never mind. I've owed it for a year. I owe everybody. I can't dig up another cent. I'm through, Virg. you may as well know it. What's more, I can't meet the interest on the mortgage on this house, and if something doesn't happen inside of a week it goes, too."

His wife stared. Then indignation crushed wonder. She jumped up. "This house! Why, it's mine. You're crazy. I paid—"

"Yes, I know. You started to build and pay for it all. But you know how it was. It got beyond you, so I agreed to shoulder the overflow and keep up the mortgage. I didn't want such a damn big place. I know my limits."

"That's right," bitterly. "I've furnished it and paid for just about everything. This house is furnished well, too."

"I'll say it is. Listen, Virg, it's no use quarreling. We've gone over it all before. I know you work hard, and I know you make money that puts me in the shade. But here's the thing: everything you've planned means more upkeep, and that's up to me. More servants, chauffeur, two cars, and a houseful of gadgets that would knock a sultan dead."

Virginia said grimly, "I suppose you mean that I've wished a white elephant on you and that my money all goes all for myself."

"Well, you—oh, I can't say it. I don't know how to talk well. I've done the best I can and I've failed. I'll clear out and you won't have the feeling that you're supporting me."

VIRGINIA noticed his suit—shapeless, rather worn. His shoes, his hat lying on the bed, all shabby. She had merely thought he was getting careless, but the thought struck her sharply enough now. He was too poor!

She went impulsively to her desk, opened a drawer and took out a small book with neat entries of dates and figures. Then she found a small key in her bag. She put both book and key into his hand.

"Now, go to your room, dear, and don't stay to see how I can hate myself. I think there's enough there altogether in securities and cash to settle things. You see I didn't guess. I've been a sneaking baby instead of your business partner, you poor darling; and a blind fool as well."

He understood, but although there was relief, there was little happiness in his surprised face. "I wish I could go 50-50," he said, "but this house—"

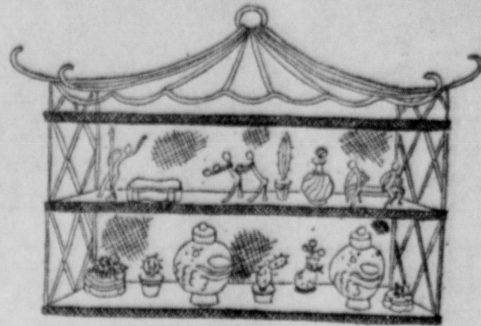

"Is too big!" she finished for him. "You're right, Sam. We'll sell it as soon as we can and cut down the overhead. You know, I've been feeling lately that I'm getting sick of the shop and business. I'd rather stay at home and make jelly for a change once in awhile. Would it be all right with you if I sold out, and was just a wife again?"

Amusing Pick-Me-Ups For Home

THIS is the time of the year when you should begin to consider what stimulants your house needs to enliven it and make it more interesting.

You may not want to redecorate. You may not be able to afford new upholstery or a single piece of furniture.

But there are all kinds of gay ways to make a given room more interesting; bits of colored decoration that lighten a mantel, make a table a focal point in the room or furnish a fascinating picture to which your eyes run.

All of these gadgets are regulation pick-me-ups for the tired room. It may be a restful room. It may be the most comfortable room in the world. But living in it month after month without adding something stimulating, or changing it just a little may make you weary of it.

For the mantel . . . sentimental farewell in porcelain.

There are three natural focal points in a room and any of these appreciate added touches. These usually are the windows, the mantel and the table.

For the windows, of course, nothing changes the aspect of the whole room so much as new curtains.

But if you don't feel like changing them, you can have them cleaned or washed and furnish them with some gay new floral tie-backs of painted metal or crystal cut in the shape and color of flowers.

These are very pleasing, especially on plain fabric. They bring the garden into the house at a time when you are apt to appreciate the move.

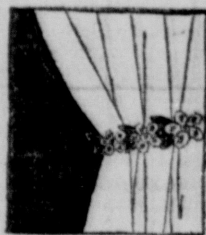

A brand-new way to center attention on the window and a mighty good way to treat a window that doesn't have the best view in the world is to add a couple of glass shelves and place all manner of cute little whatnots on it.

The shelves themselves may be bought already made, or you can have them adjusted.

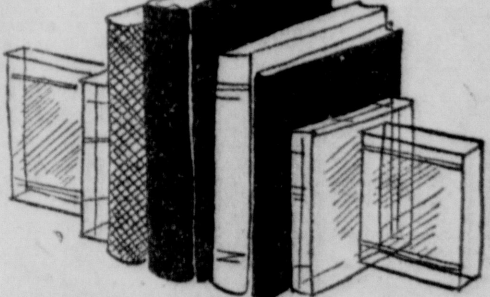

The newest trinkets to sit thereon are glass animals and ludicrous figures of colored glass.

For your mantel there are some lovely porcelains that have a touch of sentiment in them quite in keeping with this brand-new era that dares show its feelings.

One of these that is especially appealing is done in exquisite rich colors and is a man,

Last, but almost most important, is the addition of a few new and good books. To hold these on the table there are new book-ends of colored crystal, cut most modernly, in cubes.

Modern Furniture Stages a Revival used in one room and that provide equipment for the roles usually played by three rooms: eating, sleeping and dining.

Take the "sleeping sofa," for example. As a sofa, it has a seat of the proper depth and pitch to insure comfort, and as a bed it has a surface that is level and two feet eight inches wide—and the change is accomplished without any mechanism at all. You simply remove the back cushions and turn the seat cushions upside down! The same design is provided for every piece of furniture in the room. The desk, radio cabinet and bookcases may be combined.

"WHAT has happened," a home-maker in Iowa queried, "to the crazy, new-fangled furniture called art moderne that was so prominent a few years ago? I still see it in the movies, and read about it occasionally, but nobody here has any."

Doubtless not, Mrs. Iowan, but modern furniture is still being made—and they can get it. There simply isn't enough demand for the style in most of the states for stores to carry it in stock. But modern furniture is coming back, slowly but surely, and it has found a market in which to make a fresh start; a market in the metropolitan centers.

Typical of the new contemporary furniture is a living-dining-sleeping room designed by Gilbert Rohde for the small apartment. It consists of pieces that all may be

Vermont's Best Recipes Eating Around America By Gaynor Maddox

VERMONT has an inn almost as famous as its maple sirup. It is at Lyndon and is built in the stone foundation of a burned-down farmhouse.

Nearby is a maple sugar camp operated by the family. The sugar hardly ever gets out of the state because the Vermonters themselves buy it all. However, the hungry motorist, whether he comes down from Maine or across country from California, can take back with him tender memories from The Twin Flowers Inn of sour milk waffles served with soft maple sugar of Lyndon.

Of course, all the good food is not confined to the Inn. At any hospitable farmhouse along the road you can rest on an elm-shaded porch and refresh yourself with cold shrub and caraway cookies. Or perhaps you may linger on for supper and eat Vermont curried "turkey."

This isn't really turkey. It's good old-fashioned Friday codfish turned out into a friendly and economical dish. To make it, the Vermont farmer wife shreds one cup of dry cod and then pours over it lots of boiling water. After an hour of soaking, the cod is drained, covered again with boiling water and quickly drained again.

Now the real fun begins. She swings a kettle to the stove, and then melts two tablespoons of fat—most times it is bacon drippings—and stirs one tablespoon flour, three-fourths cup of milk, salt, pepper, a well-beaten egg, and a teaspoon of curry powder. To this she adds two cups of freshly-cooked rice and then the shredded cod.

ANOTHER specialty around quiet Lyndon is burnt sugar cake with black walnut icing. It's just the kind of cake to nibble under a tree on a hot afternoon.

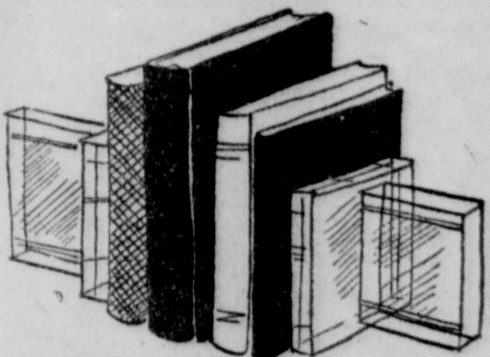

Caramelize one-half cup of sugar and slowly stir in one cup of milk and keep stirring until the caramel is all dissolved. This should make exactly one and one-third cups when finished. Allow this mixture to cool.

Cream together one-half cup of shortening and one-half cup of sugar. Add beaten yolks of two eggs and one teaspoon of vanilla extract. Sift together two and one-fourth cups of special cake flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoon of salt.

Stir the dry ingredients into the butter and sugar alternately with the caramelized sugar and milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs at the last. Now comes the test of your self-control. It will take one hour and 15 minutes for this cake to bake in a moderate oven.

Of course you can pass the time pleasantly by cracking open huge black walnuts for the top of the icing. Or you can use butternuts, if you prefer them. But watch the clock and the cake. When it is done, cool it before spreading a caramel icing over its lovely figure. Then, with delight in your fingers, cover the top with your broken nut meats.
